B. C. MUSICAL COM-PETITION FESTIVAL

Festival Adjudicators.

The four adjudicators who will officiate at the B. C. Musical Festival, May 7th to 12th, are Hugh Robertson, Dr. E. C. Bairstow, J. Peebles Conn, and Miss Marion A. Crawford, M.A. Of these the first three named will devote their time to the musical competitions, while Miss Crawford will have the Elocution Classes in hand. Miss Cave-Browne-Cave will adjudicate the Folk Dancing.

Of Mr. Hugh Robertson, who is Conductor of the Glasgow Orpheus Choir, little need be said, as his previous visit to Vancouver on the same mission two years ago will be recalled with pleasure by the great majority of people who attended the Festival. For a number of years Mr. Robertson has been actively engaged in Festival work, being responsible for the organization of various centres in Scotland. As a composer he is also well-known, but as a Festival adjudicator he is heard at his best. His return to the city is eagerly anticipated by followers of the festival in Vancouver.

Dr. E. C. Bairstow, who is at present organist at Yorkminster, needs little introduction to choral and choir members, since the large amount of music which he has written for their use has brought him into intimate connection with their work. A man who is known all over the British Empire for his inspirational work on behalf of music, his visit to Vancouver is one in which all music lovers will take a keen interest.

Mr. J. Peebles Conn, who is conductor of the Glasgow Amateur Orchestral Society, is a musician of great distinction, and although perhaps little known to many on this side of the Atlantic, his work with his own orchestra and on the continent of Europe where he has held distinguished musical appointments has brought him into great prominence among lovers of music in the British Isles.

Miss Marion E. A. Crawford has also been at the Vancouver Musical Festival before, having adjudicated here in 1920. Her work then stamped her as an expert in her line. Born in Ontario she received her education there and at Columbia University, New York. She has taught in New York and Boston, has been connected with the Cornish School at Seattle, and is a member of the Faculty of the University of Washington. She has also lectured extensively on poets and poetry.

Miss Cave-Browne-Cave is a graduate of the Cecil J. Sharp School of Folk Dancing, well qualified to adjudicate the Folk Dancing Classes.

During the history lesson the teacher asked the question — "What do you know of Margaret of Anjou?"

"She was very fat, sir," answered one boy.

This was new to the teacher, and he asked for the lad's authority.

"It's in the book, sir. Among Henry's stoutest supporters was Margaret of Anjou."
