

Whimsical Review

Business Reverse

A ducky was making an appeal to a gentleman for a donation. The gentleman, knowing him somewhat, said: "Why, Sam, you don't mean to tell me you've taken up begging?"

Sam—"Yessah, boss. Ah ain't got no other way to get along."

"Why, you told me once that you had a business."

"Yessah, Ah-all did have a business—a one-hand laundry—but Ah done lost my business."

"How did you come to lose it, Sam?"

"Well, suh, de way it was, she just up and divo'ced me."

Starting Young

A Jewish gentleman boarded a street car with his small son and handed the conductor a single.

"Why, how old is that boy?" asked the conductor.

"Four."

"Well, he certainly looks more than four years old."

"H'm! Am I responsible if he worries?"

For a Rainy Day

Mother (shaking empty savings box): "Tommy, what have you done with the money in your bank?"

Tommy — "Yesterday was a rainy day, so I spent it."

Efficiency

Foreman — "Now, Murphy, what about carrying some more bricks?"

Murphy—"I ain't feeling very good this morning, boss; I'm trembling all over."

Foreman—"Well, then, get busy with the sieve."

Little Doreen Taylor and Pal were great friends. She is almost the only person besides Pal's owner whom the dog will obey.

Oen day some workers were plaguing the little girl until, in exasperation, she ran off. Presently she returned with Pal, and walking up to the group, said: "Now say those things again and I'll bite you with my dog."

City Bred (pointing to a haystack): "What kind of a house is that?"

Country Bred: "That ain't a house; that's hay."

City Bred: "Say, you can't fool me; hay doesn't grow in a lump like that."

His Instructions

Employer (to new apprentice) "And has the foreman told you what to do?"

Apprentice: "Yes, sir. He told me to wake him up when I saw you coming."

Naturally Enough

"This is a good restaurant, isn't it?" said the customer to the waiter who had brought his order.

"Yes," replied the waiter. "If you order a fresh egg here you get the freshest egg in the world. If you order a good cup of coffee, you get the best cup of coffee in the world, and—"

"Yes, I believe it. I ordered a small steak."

Why Not?

Watching the bon-fires blazing away

Feeding on dry leaves that scurry,

Why not light fun-fires also, we say,

Burn up the rubbish of worry?

Just That

First Tramp—What happened when you went into the hotel last night?

Second Same—Oh, I got a big kick out of it.

THE PEACE OF HALLOWE'EN

"Every dog has his day and every cat has her night." On Hallowe'en night, however, poor pussy has a tough time. Trysting places and times have been carefully arranged, when bang—bang—bang goes a cracker and so do a number of cats, who, their evening's entertainment shattered beyond repair, go streaking back into the darkness to their respective homes. Hallowe'en night is a very old institution, but apparently, it has not yet been placed in the cats' calendar. No wonder, at the first alarm caused by the explosion of a canon cracker in the distance, all the pussies put up their backs as per the above illustration and spit and swear, until a cracker landing in their midst spells the beginning and the ending of what promised to be a perfect night.

THE NEW REGIME
(Or school thoughts for the holidays)

Tommy, when you return to school,
Be calm, 'co-ordinate' and sage:
Though young in years, don't play the fool;
You are quite old in "mental age":
'Tis this that now we reckon by--
Not merely Anno Domini.

No more at your instructor scoff;
For such behaviour simply spells
A "super-excitation" of
The "nervous vegetative cells"—
An "inhibition" of the sort
Which makes a boy of good report.

Offence no more requires the cane;
No more must merit look for
meed;
"Balance" 'is now the thing to
gain:
A little talk is all we need,
And methods which—what'er befall—
Are "Psycho-analytical."

If o'er the bench we bid you bend
As in past years you often bent,
We seek a "means" and not an
"end"
(No Tommy! 'Tis not that I meant!)

Body and soul we count as one,
And indivisible, my son.
Lastly: there is but one disease;
Mumps, measles, colic, all combined,
Are mental—call 'em what you
please;
One "vagotonia" of the mind.
Mark this, dear boy, and you've
a chance,
Of Man's Divine Inheritance.
