Fate

In a certain newspaper office they have on the staff a clever caricaturist.

One day the editor passed a cutting remark about his work, whereupon the artist drew a libellous picture of the editor, which later fell into his victim's hands. He sent for the perpetrator, and holding up the drawing, said, angrily: "Are you responsible for this?"

"Not at all," replied the artist, blandly, "your parents are."

Making It Easy for Dad

Tell me the truth now, Eric. Who did your home exercises? Father. Quite alone? No, I helped him with it.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. James R. Mitchell has been appointed assistant examiner for Matriculation Examinations. He left for Victoria on Wednesday and will spend several days at the capital.

Mrs. Reid, commercial teacher, is taking a summer school course at U.B.C.

The Matriculation Examinations were completed on Tuesday. A total of 42 candidates wrote Departmental Examinations at the local High School. Reg. Hamilton of the Pauline Johnson School was in charge, with Mrs. Gemmill as assistant supervisor.

What An Appetite!

Her father was looking very stern.

"You're far too extravagant, Doris," he said. "What do you want five pounds for now?"

"A new evening frock," she replied.

"Evening frock!" he exclaimed. "But, good gracious, girl, I bought you a new evening frock only last week. What's happened to that?"

Her eyes filled with tears. "It's gone, father," she said. "I put it away in the cupboard and a horrible moth ate it."
