BRIGHTEST AUGUST

SINCE 1917

August, with 334 hours and 6 minutes of sunshine, was the brightest month recorded in Vancouver since 1917, states the monthly report of Mr. E. B. Shearman, head of the Dominion Meterological Service here. The total for August, 1917, was 348 hours and 12 minutes. The twenty-year average for the month is 258.

August was also warmen.

August was also warmer and drier than usual. Only .61 inches of rain fell and the mean temperature was 64 degrees, compared to the average monthly precipitation and temperature of 1.71 inches and 62.9 degrees respectively.

The highest temperature was

The highest temperature was on August 9 when 84 degrees were recorded. On August 4 the mercury sank to 48.6 degrees, the month's lowest temperature. Rainfall since the beginning of this year amounts to 34.98 inches, which is 5.79 inches above the precipitation recorded at this time in an average year.

THE BURNING BUSH By Subadar

There were some very fine pictures at the recent Canada Pacific Exhibition and there were some of the new school of so-called "art" which spoiled the frames enclosing them. We have a new kind of poetry (?) in Canada and the States of the same calibre. My friend the editor, who is a singularly explosive individual, quoted the following parody to me, which both he and I agreed fitted the case as against this sort of mock art in pictures and literature, It was written by a western editor on a much praised poem about eating an apple by one whose Christian name was "Emily." It goes as follows:

an apple by one whose an aname was "Emily." It goes as follows:

"A keg of beer,
And a yard of tripe,
And sixteen Chinamen hitting the pipe,
Stuff like this I could write with my feet,
But what in the world does does Emily eat?"
I think I could paint some of those pictures with my feet. "I hope so, indeed," as my old aunt, a noted termagant, used to remark.

'Igh Clars!

Maid (having accepted her notice): "Anyway, mum, I've been in better class 'houses than this. Why, the last place I was in the ladies used to strip for dinner."

In addition there were 25 applicants for the Senior Matriculation Course, also several desirous of taking a Special Course in Commercial work.
This is the first time that Sen ous or taking a Special Course in Commercial work.

This is the first time that Senior Matriculation work has been offered on the North Shore. Some details of organization remain to be settled and it is expected that this class will begin its full programme on Tuesday, September 8th. In addition to the local students a number of students residing in North Vancouver have applied for Senior Matriculation, and there is every indication that this will be a successful class.

The steady growth of the school is shown by comparison with enrollment in September 1930, which was 159.

with enrollment in September 1930, which was 159.

The present staff is as follows: Principal, Fred. J. Patterson, M. A.; vice-Principal, James R. Mitchell, B.A.; Mrs. Winifred Reid, commercial specialist; Miss Agnes Hale, M.A.; Mr. Leslie Brooks, B.A.; Mr. John Condon, manual training and Miss Jessie Castell, B.Sc. in home economics. The last two also teach public school classes in their respective subjects, Miss Castell replaces Miss Davidge who has returned to her home in England. Miss Castell is a graduate of Manitoba Agricultural College holding the degree of B. Sc. in Home Economics, also a diploma in Dietetics from the Vancouver General Hospital.

Mrs. Reid, who attended summer school during the vacction

Its from the vancouver General Hospital.

Mrs. Reid, who attended summer school during the vacation, is receiving congratulations of teachers and students upon having been awarded the B.C. Commercial Specialists permanent certificate.

Both the members of the staff and the students have returned refreshed from the summer holidays and are facing the work of the new year with hopeful determination.

BRIDGE OFFICES TO BE CLOSED

Offices of Burrard Inlet Tunnel & Bridge Co, north end of Second Narrows bridge, will be closed and salaries of the staff now employed by the company will be reduced, it was decided at a meeting of the board of directors last Monday.

Mr. Percy Ward, manager of the company, whose salary will be reduced to a small retaining fee, announces that due to the non-operation of Second Narrows bridge, there is not enough business connected with company affairs to warrant full-time services of the present staff. Work will therefore be divided among the bridge company employees, whose salaries will be materially reduced.

Offices of the company will be opened only on special occasions,

FOOTBALL PLAYERS, ATTENTION!

It is proposed to form this season a West Vancouver Junior Lions' team, and with this end in view a meeting for organization purposes will be held to night in the ferry waiting room on Ambleside dock. Any fotballers interested can obtain ful particulars by phoning either A. Bean at West 672L or B. Clement at West 219L.

THE FESS OIL BURNER

The attention of West Vancouver residents is drawn to the Fess Oil Burner for house heating. It is an all Canadian product, the oldest and largest selling oil burner in the British Empire, is noiseless and has an average of less than two service calls per burner per season. Free demonstrations will be gladly given at 645 Howe Street, or for further information please phone Trinity 3217. An advertisement relative to this appears in this issue.

P. T. A. MEETING

The West Vancouver P. T. A. will hold its first meeting after the summer recess in the Pauline Johnson School on Tuesday evening, 15th September, instead of the 8th instant. A pleasing part of the program will be the presentation of a $10 gold piece to the most successful student in the matriculation class this year. The name of the lecturer will be given in our next issue.

A cordial invitation is extended to all interested in education to attend.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Pauline Johnson School opened last Tuesday with a receiving class of 27 and a total roll of 356 pupils. Other admissions were 64, but these included 17 pupils of Dundarave district transferred from Hollyburn School,
