CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 6.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God." (1 Cor. 2: 12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The great I AM made all 'that was made. Hence man and the spiritual universe coexist with God." (p. 267).

The matter of Ambleside Beach and Park patrol on Sundays and holidays was referred by the council to the reeve to take up with the chief of police, also restriction of burning permits for day burning.

CLOVER—SENTANCE

A lovely wedding, performed at St. Stephen's Church, on July 24, united in marriage Miss Mona Sentance, only daughter of Mrs. E. G. Sentance of West Vancouver, and Mr. Owen Clover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clover of Vancouver. Performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. J. P. Dingle, the ceremony took place amid a beautiful setting of pastel shaded summer blossoms of many varieties, and the bride, escorted to the altar by Mr. R. G. Cook, was given in marriage by her mother. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Frederick Barbour sang "Because."

Miss Connie Edwards, Miss
Ione McDonald and Miss Jean
McLaren attended as bridesmaids, and little Miss Geraldine Robertson was flower girl, while
Mr. Gordon Jamieson was best man and Mr. Ross Forrester and Mr. Albert Masterman acted as ushers

The bride wore a very graceful floor-length gown of white taffeta combined with rich lace and worn with a long veil forming a train secured at the head by orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of rosebuds and white heather.

white heather.

The three attendants, dressed in gowns of similar design, formed a charming contrast to the bride. Miss Edwards was gowned in pale green sik net, while Miss McDonald chose pastel rose sik net and Miss McLaren light blue point d'esprit. Their dresses were tight fitting at the bodice and flared widely and long to the floor, just showing their self-toned slippers. Their hats of close-fitting mohair were en suite and their ambouquets were of variegated sweet peas. The attendants each wore a silver slave bracelet, presents from the groom.

The dainty flower girl was dressed in an ankle length yellow silk frock with a buttercup bonnet to match. She carried a quaint Colonial bouquet.

A reception followed the ceremony at Elks' Lodge room, North Vancouver, where the bride and groom were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Sentance, wearing a smart ensemble of wine colored crepe and chiffon velvet and biege hat and gloves, and Mrs. Clover, attractive in black and rose chiffon. The room was beautiful in its profusion of roses and sweet peas. The table was centered with a three-tier cake flanked on either side by tall tapers in silver sconces.

Mrs. J. Koch, sister of the groom, who arrived from Ed-side by tall tapers in silver sconces.

Mrs. J. Koch, sister of the groom, who arrived from Edmonton for the wedding, served the wedding cake after the bride had made the first cut. Mrs. Koch was smartly attired in a cream serge swagger suit and hat, accessories to match. Serviteurs were Miss Ruth Hill, Miss Thelma Witton and Mrs. Archie Stewart.

The groom responded to a toast proposed by the Rev. J. P. Dingle, in a few well chosen words.

Dingle, in a rew wen words.

Mr. and Mrs. Clover left later by boat for Vancouver Island, where they will reside. For going away the bride chose a suit of green, rough crepe, blege coat, silver fox fur, and white hat, shoes and gloves. The groom's gift to the bride was a fitted travelling case.

The Misses A. and S. Mills spent the week end at the Clachan.
