Pace solicits fare comments.

Pace, the suburban bus division of the Regional Transportation Authority, this week held public hear-ings on proposed 10-cent per ride bus fare hikes, pass

price hikes, and a series of fare hikes for CTA transfers and services such as Dial-A-

Ride. Comments on the proposed hikes also can be made in writing and sent to Pace,

Intergovernmental Affairs,

550 W. Algonquin Road, Arlington Heights 60005 by Tuesday.

The PACE board is to consider comments when it meets at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday at that address. For more information on the proposed hikes, call Pace's passenger service office at 364-7223.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

CORRECTING FLAWS IN CHILDREN'S TEETH

* CUHHEUTING FLAWS IN CHILDREN'S TEETH

* There are rare instances in which a child's teeth may be discolored or misshapen due to such factores as early illness or trauma, heredity or environmental influences. For instance, misshapen teeth may result from infection, high lever, or malirutrition during intancy or early childhood. In other cases, enamel imperfections may be caused by a genetic trait that runs in tamilies. Some children experience discoloration due to a naturally high fluoride content in the drinking water of some areas. The ingestion of tetracycline drugs before age eight can also cause tooth discoloration. In all the cases mentioned, the problems may be corrected by bonding or covering the teeth with crowns.

Regular check-ups are important at every age, but can be critical in childhood. For total dental care for the entire family, please call us at 256-7726 for an appointment. Our services include oral reconstruction, periodontal therapy, root canal therapy, and cosmetic dentistry. Our office is located at 1159 Wilmette Ave, Suite 20.

The Family Service Center provides counseling for a wide range of difficulties, including anxiety and depression, substance abuse and behavior problems with children, said Noone.

"People come in to solve their problems," Noone con-cluded. "We don't solve their problems, but we can help them in their effort to solve their problems."

In addition to Wilmette, the center serves Kenilworth residents and also has offices in Glenview and Northbrook.

The agency receives funds from the Wilmette United Way and from New Trier Township.
