

Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Abbott To Run Theater Sessions

Mrs. William M. Taylor of Northbrook and Mrs. Arthur Abbott of Chicago will conduct the Wilmette Children's Theater workshops starting Saturday in Avoca Junior High School.

Mrs. Taylor, 2344 Ash Ln., will direct the acting-technique workshop. She is a graduate of Beloit (Wis.) College and has studied at Northwestern University.

She taught dramatics at Wilmette Junior High School-Howard from 1963 to 1965.

Pupils taking part in the acting-technique workshop will be instructed in movement, voice and diction, pantomime, and improvisation.

Mrs. Abbott will conduct the theater-movement workshop, stressing synchronization of body and voice rhythms.

Mrs. Abbott has taught similar workshops for Teatro de Usted in Mexico City, the Roslyn (N.Y.) School System, Haven School in Evanston, and Skokie Community Theater.

The pantomime workshop, has been canceled because the instructor is moving from the area. For the workshops, pupils in grades three through five will meet from 10 to 11 a.m. and those in grades six through eight, 11 a.m. to noon.
