

Rumsfeld Hits Democrats For Delay on Reform Bills

Cong. Donald Rumsfeld (R-13th) of Glenview last week scored the Democratic leadership for delaying consideration of reform proposals.

The congressman spoke at a breakfast meeting honoring him and Charles H. Percy of Kenilworth, GOP U.S. Senate candidate.

More than 150 residents of the 13th District attended the event, a lox and bagels breakfast in Hyatt House, Lincolnwood. The session was sponsored by a citizens' committee headed by Jerome N. Robbins of Skokie.

Mr. Percy, who was unable to attend, spoke with the guests via a special telephone hookup.

Cong. Rumsfeld, who contributed a chapter to a recently published book aimed at congressional reform, "We Propose: A Modern Congress," said the Democrats have been sitting on recommendations continued in the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1966. The proposals were drafted by the Joint Committee on the Organization of Congress.

Cong. Rumsfeld explained that among the reforms recommended by the joint committee are such important items as the creation of a House Committee on Standards and Conduct (ethics).

Other recommendations are for eliminating of proxy voting in committee and subcommittee meetings, permission to televise and broadcast committee hearings, and removal of postmasters and rural letter carriers from politics.

"The delay is inexcusable," Cong. Rumsfeld charged. "Unless the Democratic leadership changes its position, there will be no congressional reforms in the 89th Congress. A failure to act now will mean the 90th Congress will be organized under existing procedures, and further, that meaningful congressional reforms will have to wait two more years."

Pointing out that the joint committee heard 106 congressional witnesses and spent many hours compiling its final report, the Glenview legislator said:

"It would be a serious act of obstruction to waste this effort through the inaction of the Democratic leadership."
