Wilmette Man Installs Motion Picture Houses

Hammond O. Mende, of 1507 Central avenue, has just returned home from installing several new motion picture theaters. At Louisville, Ky., he installed the Loew State theater; at Marion, Ohio, the Palace theater, in Chicago, the Balaban and Katz Paradise theater. All of the theaters were designed by John Eberson of Chicago who was the originator of atmospheric theaters. Mr. Mende is especially interested in creating the flowers, foliage, birds and other decorations creating an illusion of the out-of-doors.

LUNCHEON CHAIRMAN

The Foundation for St. Francis hospital will have its anniversary bridge luncheon Thursday, October 4, at 12:30 o'clock at the Evanston hotel. Members of the Foundation or others interested are asked to call University 5000 for reservations on or before October 1. Mrs. Napoleon Picard, chairman of ways and means of the society, is arranging the luncheon.
