"Many people knowing the law vio-lated it by parking within the fifteen foot area while on errands in the shop-ping districts, says Chief Denman. "These motorists have been chagrined to find summons slips awaiting them on their return, and have been greatly put out over the fact that they have been 'arrested.'

CHORUS OFFERS 'LAST WORDS'

Another enjoyable evening of sacred music is being planned by the chorus of the Wilmette Parish Methodist Episcopal church in the program tonight at the church in which the cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ" by Th. DuBois, a French composer, will be rendered under direction of Orville Jennings Borchers.

"At this season of the year," says Mr.

nings Borchers.

"At this season of the year," says Mr. Borchers, "nothing brings us quite as close to the spirit of the Master and the spirit of his sacrifice as good sacred music. Th. DuBois, in his inspired work very vividly and clearly portrays this spirit in the face of the insulting cries of blasphemy from the mob which crucified Him. The composer's work is full of dramatic interpretation and soul-thrilling passages to the understanding ear. It is recognized as one of the greatest musical settings of the Crucifixion.

"The Oratorio opens with 'an Invo-cation' to hearken unto and behold the sorrow and suffering of Christ. The First Word very dramatically portrays the merciless cries of the mob to crucify Him, and the sudden outburst of Christ's great prayer. Fether, forgive them, for Him, and the sudden outburst of Christ's great prayer—'Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do.' The Second Word opens rather quietly with a clarinet solo, and very nobly gives us His spirit in His comforting words to the thieves upon the cross 'Verily, thou shalt be in Paradise today with me.' The Third Word with accompaniment alternating between piano and organ very beautifully portrays Mary, the mother of Jesus, weeping at the feet of her son—'See, O woman! here behold thy son beloved!' The Fourth Word is the famous baritone solo—'God my Father, why hast Thou forsaken me'sung by Mr. Anderson of Evanston. The Fifth Word opens very quietly with the words of Christ, 'I am athirst.' Then suddenly there is a dramatic outburst in the music depicting the sneers of the mosh vold.' They wouldst find design the school will present "Robin words of which the suddenly there is a dramatic outburst in the music depicting the sneers of the Music department of New Trier High school will present "Robin" words of Christ, 'I am athirst.' Then suddenly there is a dramatic outburst in the music depicting the sneers of the mob—Vah! Thou wouldst fain destroy the temple; if thou be Jesus, son of the Father now from the cross descend and save thyself. The Sixth Word very beautifully opens with piano and organ accompaniment and tenor solo later supplemented by the chorus—'Father, into Thy hands I commend my soul.' Very quietly and dramatically the Seven'h Word is interpreted—'It is finished.' Then with a sudden outburst the terror voice proclaims darkness over the earth, and a great earthquake. The oratoric then closes with a tremendous dust between organ and piano.

"You cannot afford to miss this great service. Those who so recently saw Queen Esther dramatized by the same of the community of "Robin Hood" is under the direction of Mrs. Marian V. Cotton, supervision it was that conceived the annual series of Little Symphony orchestral concerts now enjoyed by the north shore community.

Mrs. Cotton has assembled all the resources of the school, and, in three instances, has gone outside of the school to secure the best direction and talent for the opera. The cast of "Robin Hood" consists entirely of students, assisted by two alumni. Great care was used by Mrs. Cotton in choosing the cast so that only the voices best suited for the parts were selected.

Wiedlin, Baker and Drayer Named New Trustees

Arrangements have been made to secure the entire New Trier High school band for the afternoon.

A special feature of the program will be a catechism conducted by Miss Anna Belle Ferrier, superintendent of Arden Shore, in which the boys will be asked to relate their experiences and progress made since leaving the camp.

Three precincts of a total of ten brought victory to the colors of the Home Party ticket in Tuesday's annual Village election and when the final ballots had been counted the Cou camp.

A supper will be held for the "graduates" and visitors, followed by a campfire and story-telling hour.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the Home-Coming includes Mrs. Otto A. Kreutzler of Lake Bluff, chairman; Mrs. Frederick G. Wacker and Mrs. George Richardson of Lake Forest; Mrs. Harold C. Gifford of Hubbard Woods; Mrs. Norman W. Harris of Winnetka; Mrs. Leslie F. Gates, of Wilmette and Mrs. William J. Wardall of Evanston.

Annexation, victory for which was conceded in the event a large enough vote could be registered, was approved by a 5 to 1 majority, or 2617 for and 594 against. LIGHT OPERA It was favored by huge major-ities in each of the ten precincts.

Vigorous Campaign
Victory went to the Home ticket as the result of a well-planned and vigorous campaign which continued until the last minute of voting. Workers were still calling at the homes within the last half-hour before the polls closed. It was not altogether surprising—this victory—because the Community party had been placed on the defensive from the very outset of the campaign which began more than a month ago when the been placed on the defensive from the very outset of the campaign which began more than a month ago when the "No Flats" issue brought about a series of mass meetings where sentiment was eventually crystalized in the formation of a definite platform and a ticket of candidates for the three positions of Village Trustees.

When the votes were canvassed it was shown that John F. Wiedlin, of 120 Park avenue led all candidates for trustee posts with 1827 votes. John Clark Baker of 347 Maple avenue, was second with 1819, and Clarence E. Drayer, 1034 Elmwood avenue, third with a count of 1799.

Harry M. Bachman, Claude E. Fitch and Louis T. Starkel finished in that order in the list of the defeated candi-

Orner Is High Man

Unopposed candidates, including Earl E. Orner, for Village Clerk; Harry W. Miller, for Village Treasurer; J. R. Harper and E. G. Bentley for School Trustees, polled uniformly heavy totals, finding equal favor with the voters in both parties. Orner, who has held the office of village clerk for nearly a score of years, headed the list with a total of 2723 votes.

Early returns indicated success of the Amexation proposition when scattering precincts showed an overwhelmingly favorable vote. Stories of eleventh hour or-ganized opposition to the proposition, put zest into the work of those who had been spensoring annexation during the past few months and every prospective voter was reminded of the "Little Bailot" before he entered the polling place.

Hundreds of Phone Calls

The interest in the election, as indicated in the heavy vote, was also apparent after the polls were closed, when hundreds of telephone calls were received at the offices of Wilmette Life and police headquarters where the returns were being received. All the ballots had been tabulated before 9 o'clock and the vote officially canvassed by the Village board before 10 o'clock.

board before 10 o'clock.

By virtue of the election Wilmette's territory is enlarged by about 5 acres, the Ridge avenue dividing line as been obliterated, some 600 new citizens added to the Village, and the personnel of the Village Board of Trustees changed by the addition of three new members, replacing present incumbents.

A tabulation of the official returns is found elsewhere in this issue of Wilmerry Larg.
