Things of Beauty Which Endure
DIAMONDS

NO COMMODITY on earth—well bought—depreciates so little with time and wear as diamonds. You may enjoy—with pride—the intimate possession and use of nature's masterpiece for a generation or more, at which time its value may have enhanced. Do you know of another article of luxury of which this may be said?

We have been diamond merchants for 67 years. The experience and judgment gained therein are at your service today. Every diamond that we offer is worthy of its price and of your approval.

Triangle Club to Give Evanston Performance

THE TRIANGLE CLUB of Princeton university will present its forty-second annual production, "The Scarlet Coat," an original musical drama, in Chicago at the Eighth Street theatre on the afternoon and evening of Monday, December 29, and also in Evanston at the Evanston Country club on the evening of Tuesday, December 30.

Although the club has played in Chicago during Christmas holidays for a number of years, this marks its first appearance in Evanston.

All seats for the three performances are to be reserved. The Evanston arrangements, including the allotment of tickets, are being handled by Robert T. Sherman, 1629 Judson avenue, Evanston, while J. Russell Forgan, 105 South Dearborn street, is in charge of the Chicago performances.

"The Scarlet Coat" is a musical drama of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, and the scenes are laid in the Hudson Bay country. Every feature of the production, including the writing of the play, dialogue, music and lyrics, the designing and painting of the scenery, and the devising of the lighting effects, is the work of Princeton students.

In addition to the Chicago and Evanston performances, the club will play in Boston, Morristown, Rochester, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, Detroit, Cleveland, Baltimore, Washington and New York.

Villagers Invited to "The Old Maids Return"

A MATINEE performance of "The Old Maids Return" will be given tomorrow afternoon for children especially, although adults will be admitted. This clever farce is being given at the Woman's club, corner of Tenth street and Greenleaf avenue, by members of the Woman's Catholic club of Wilmette, assisted by outside talent. The initial performance is this evening.

The cast includes Mesdames Hanna Crush, Stella Pahlman, Maud Tarnow, Matilda Seng, Bess Kavanaugh, Marguerite Krafthefer, Ethyl Mills, Retta Tisdelle, Eva Ronan, Rose Barton, Florence Broad, Gertrude Ludwig, Frances Patterson, and Orpha Boyston.

Charles Bunte, Edward Kelly and Frank Oelerich will add their bit to the fun of the production. Miss Helen and Miss Madeline Lamkey will impersonate the Duncan Sisters in song from "Topsy and Eva." Miss Virginia Seng and Miss Patsie Krafthefer will dance, and Eugene Sweitzer, baritone soloist, and Joseph Chopic, violinist, will take part in the performance.

The Winnetka Attic Puppets are giving their performance of Dicken's "Christmas Carol," in Winnetka, on Wednesday, December 17, at the Christ Church Parish house. There are two shows, one in the afternoon at 3, given for the Arden Shore boys, and the other, in the evening at 8, for the general public. The tickets for the latter performance are to be sold by the Girls' Friendly society. Another show will be given at the Winnetka Woman's club on December 22.

This is the third year the Attic Puppets have been giving their delightful shows along the north shore. Everyone who saw "Dr. Dolittle," which they gave last year, will long remember the ease and skill with which the characters were portrayed. The two outstanding ones this year are Mrs. Emmons Blaine as "Scrooge," and Mrs. Nathaniel Blatchford as "Marley's ghost." The whole troupe is unusually talented. It has given performances in Chicago, and Saturday it is to perform in Evanston. After the holidays the group is going to Lake Forest and Lake Geneva.

Mrs. Emmons Blaine, Jr., is manager.

Novel in the usual afternoon meetings of the Neighborhood circle was the old-fashioned party given on Tuesday afternoon of last week. This group includes in its members the residents of the Twelve-hundred block on Lake avenue, who gathered together costumes reminiscent of the period between 20 and 50 years ago. Leg-o'-Mutton sleeves, bouffant gored skirts, high waisted coats, broad brimmed leghorn hats, quaint old striped shawls, were features of the attire worn by many of the circle members. Because they were so unusual, votes were taken, the choice falling to Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. Blaylock for the uniqueness of their dress. One woman wore the bonnet that had belonged to her husband's great-grandmother. To carry out the spirit of the occasion, charades and old fashioned games were played until refreshments were served. The party was given at the home of Mrs. John R. Vallance of 1225 Lake avenue.

Miss Marjorie Sheffield of the A. F. Ames school, Riverside, a graduate of the National Kindergarten and Elementary college, will have charge of the program for children on the Tribune Radio station, WGN, next Saturday, December 13, from 5:30 to 6 o'clock. The program, which is given each week under the auspices of the college, will include Christmas stories by Miss Sheffield and Christmas songs and carols by students.

Holiday plans are already in the making for a gay season for the young people. Helene Seibold, Katherine Stoip, Betty Harwood and Phyllis Ruf will be hostesses at a dance Tuesday evening, December 30, at the Oakliffe Country club.

North Shore society took great interest in the Grenfell benefit dance given Thursday evening at the Evanston Woman's club. The work done by the Grenfell mission on the coast of Labrador has engaged the interest of residents all along the north shore. Some of the young people have given their services during the summer to work among the native people who earn their livelihood by fishing and trapping. The introduction of sheep into their midst necessitated a barn, and it is for the building of this that the dance was given. This afternoon, home-spuns, hooked rugs, baskets, mocassins and Eskimo dolls, the hand work of these people, will be on sale at the club. The patronesses for this affair from our villages were Mrs. Rufus Stoip of Kenilworth, Miss Harriet Hough-teling of Winnetka, Mrs. Arthur Cable of Hubbard Wood, Mrs. William Dawes of Glencoe.

North shore boys and girls, large and small, will thoroughly enjoy Racketty Packetty House, the play to be given by students of the National Kindergarten and Elementary college in the Evanston Woman's club on Saturday, December 13. Even the Racketty Packetty house dolls and the Tidy Castle dolls are unanimous on this point. The fact that half the cast is garbed in rag-tags and ratters, and that the furniture is apt to lose a leg or a pound of stuffing at any time, merely adds to the general interest and fun. Of course, children who insist on having everything in order all the time may look only at the Tidy Castle dolls and furniture.

There will be two performances of the play, at 10:30 and 2 o'clock, and tickets may be secured from Miss Virginia Solbery, University 1801, or on Saturday at the Evanston Woman's club.

Mrs. Thalia A. Rochlitz and her daughter, Frances, gave dramatic readings last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Krock, 520 Diversey parkway. Mrs. Krock, who is the mother of the editor of the New York World, gave a beautiful luncheon in honor of several members of the Illinois Press Women's association. Among the guests were Mrs. Blue, a short story writer and the daughter of O. P. Read, Mrs. Thalia Rochlitz, poet and contributor, and Mrs. Ophelia Blair, well known lecturer, writer and poet, whose poem, "Little Girl of Yesterday," was recited by Miss Rochlitz.

Glen Buck of Evanston spoke last Sunday at the Bookfellows about personal relations and acquaintance with John Burroughs. The famous writer and naturalist gave to Mr. Buck in manuscript form, his last book, "The Harvest." A movement to have an interesting circle like the Evanston Bookfellows to which Mr. and Mrs. Charles Travis belong, has been started in Wilmette.
