

WELFARE HEADS IN CONVENTION

Study Problems of Community Centers

The National Community Center association is to hold its annual conference in Chicago beginning December 29, and ending December 31.

The president of the association is Robert F. Park, of the University of Chicago, and among the members of the Executive committee of the association are: Mrs. Louis D. Brandeis, of Washington, chairman; Prof. R. D. McKenzie, of the University of Washington; Leroy F. Bowman, of Columbia university, secretary and editor; and Edward L. Burchard, treasurer. The chairman of the Local committee is Prof. Thomas D. Eliot.

All meetings except the business sessions are open to the public, and unless otherwise announced, will be held on the Mezzanine Floor at the Auditorium hotel on the days above mentioned. It is anticipated that many north shore community center workers will attend.

Among the subjects to be discussed are: "Why Chicago School Centers Fail and Succeed," "Studies in Community Organization"—among these studies will be one on "Human Resources for Community Welfare," by Prof. Carl A. Strow of Knox college; "The Chain Store as an Index to Community Organization," by F. R. Shideler, Franklin college.

ANOTHER ACCOMPLISHMENT

If you want to know the real pleasures of tobacco, smoke two cigars at once!

Ernest Torrence does it in a specially designed double-barrelled holder—and enjoys it.

The holder was prepared for Torrence in the role of the ferocious Capt. Hook in the Herbert Brenon production for Paramount of J. M. Barrie's "Peter Pan."

Hook is a composite of Morgan, Teach, Kidd and all the famous pirates of the past. In the person of Ernest Torrence, these old sea terrorists come to the screen armed to the teeth with knives, swords, pistols and a large hatred for anything and everything respectable.

The double-barrelled cigar holder is a part of the ferociousness of the redoubtable Captain Hook. It takes a strong man to survive two cigars smoked at the same time.
