

GIRLS PLAN BAZAAR

High School Girls' Club Promises Array of Gifts at Xmas Sale December 5; Dance to Feature Day

Many beautiful and useful articles will be on sale at the Christmas bazaar which the members of the Girls' club of New Trier High school will hold in the mess hall of the school Saturday, December 5.

There will be dolls of all sizes and descriptions. Two people, who have collections of foreign dolls, have very kindly offered to loan them to the school, so that they may be copied by the girls who are dressing dolls. The doll booth will be very colorful with its Chinese, French, Spanish and Italian dolls.

Interesting Art Booth

In the Art booth, there will be all sorts of painted things: shoe trees, lamp-shades, perhaps a batch of scarfs, and Christmas cards. Caroline Burnham is planning a design for a Christmas card which the girls working for the Art booth will tint. All of one's Christmas cards may be hand painted this year. Besides the cards there will be a New Trier calendar. This calendar will have in it photographs of scenes around the school. This would be very interesting to one's friends who have heard about the school.

Sells Bakery Goods

Cakes, bread, cookies, all things to eat may be found in the Dutch Oven. This booth is expected to be very popular.

The French Boudoir seems to be very well started already. Many dainty and lovely things may be bought there, such as flowers for coats, handkerchiefs, collar-and-cuff sets, tea towels—everything that may be sewn.

Everyone is invited to attend the bazaar and select Christmas gifts or buy for himself. There will be dancing and refreshments and a one-act play will be presented both in the afternoon and the evening.

WINS LETTER AT YALE

Don Curless, graduate of New Trier High school in the class of 1925, won the tennis finals at Yale this fall, it was learned. He was the first member of this year's freshman class to win his letter.
