Wilmette's Future Will Be Topic at Citizens' Meeting

What is characterized as something new in practical citizenship is promised in the meeting at the Oakliffe Country Club Tuesday, March 9, when every citizen of Wilmette is invited who is in any way interested in the future progress of the village.

The theme of the meeting will be an appraisal of the Wilmette of the present and a forecast for a planned future it is explained. Village President Earl E. Orner will be one of the speakers and has chosen as his subject, "Not a Greater But a Better Wilmette". The other speaker will be announced later and will talk on playgrounds, schools or a proposed community center.

For some time members of the Country Club have shared in the general desire for Wilmette to be up and doing—somewhat like Winnetka on the north and Evanston on the south, it is explained in the announcement of the March 9 meeting. A civics committee was accordingly appointed by the board of directors and will have charge of this meeting.

The March 9 meeting will be entirely non-partisan in character, citizens are assured, and there will of course be no admission charge. Opportunity will be given for open discussion and questions.

The Civics committee of the Country club, at a meeting Monday evening endorsed the 100 per cent Voting meeting to be held at the Central cafeteria, March 15, and urged that as many clubmembers as possibly could, to attend the session.

OBSERVE BIRTHDAYS

Two birthdays occurred in the home of Dr. Edward Cumiskey at 1336 Elmwood avenue on February 14, for both Dr. Cumiskey and his small daughter Kathryn, who was 6 years old, celebrated Saturday afternoon with a children's party for about 16 of Kathryn's little friends. The decorations were in bright colors, and the refreshments very suggestive of St. Valentine. The children had a delightful time playing games and dancing.
