Dr. W. A. Colledge Taken by Death in Florida, January 9

Dr. William A. Colledge, educational director of the Redpath Lyceum bureau and formerly pastor of the Kenilworth Union church, head of the department of English at Armour institute, died Sunday at Jacksonville, Fla. Funeral services held at Jacksonville this week.

He assumed the chair of English at Armour institute in 1904. Previously he had been an extension lecturer at the University of Chicago. He left educational work to enter the ministry and for several years held pastorates at Aurora and Kenilworth.

Dr. Colledge was born in Edinburgh, Scotland in 1859. He was a member of the Stanley expedition into Africa to rescue Dr. Livingston. He was editor in chief of the New Standard Encyclopedia in 1906 and the first editor of the Technical World magazine. He was the author of many books, a noted lecturer in chautauqua work and vice president and director of La Salle Extension university.

His widow, Mrs. Frances M. Colledge, and one son, Edward, of Jacksonville, Fla., survive.

Carpenter Shop Blaze Imperils Residences

Two calls, one of major importance and the other a false alarm, summoned the fire department from its quarters Sunday morning.

At about 2:30 neighbors near the E. H. Hanson carpenter shop, located at the rear of 1218 Wilmette avenue, were awakened by the glow from a fire that, before its discovery, had destroyed the entire roof of the shop and otherwise caused damage to the extent of about $1,500. Speedy work on the part of the firemen probably saved nearby residences from serious damage from sparks. At 8 o'clock, the second run was made to Kenilworth where either the fire had already been extinguished or an alarm was turned in by mistake.

RETURNS TO MIAMI

O. F. Webber, who was formerly with the Paul Schroeder Real Estate company and now of Miami, Fla., was visiting with friends in Wilmette and vicinity during the holidays. He returned to Miami Wednesday.

Robert King Brown, Church Leader Here, Summoned by Death

Robert King Brown, for nearly forty years a resident of the north shore and for eighteen years a resident of Wilmette passed away at his home, 1125 Forest avenue, Monday, January 10. Funeral services were held from the home at 2 o'clock Thursday, the Rev. George P. Magill of the Wilmette Presbyterian church officiating. Burial was made at the Rosehill cemetery.

Mr. Brown had been identified with the Marshall Field company in the furnishing contracting department for nearly forty years. He had also been a member of the Wilmette Presbyterian church for eighteen years, having acted in the capacity of an elder and having been one of the charter members of the church.

At the services, Thursday, other officials, with whom he has worked in the interest of the church for so many years, acted as pallbearers. A large representation of friends and business associates and representatives of the Marshall Field organization were present.

He is survived by his wife, Isabelle, two sons, Herbert of Minneapolis, and Francis M. Brown of Wilmette, and a daughter, Mrs. Helen Goddard of Kinsley, Kansas.

Clyde Cooley Shows Up as Great Football Find

Clyde Cooley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cooley, 635 Eleventh street, is attracting wide attention in the East by his prowess in athletics at Calvert hall, prominent Catholic preparatory school at Baltimore, Md.

Clyde has won his spurs as a full-back on the Calvert Hall football squad, which won its first championship in the Catholic Prep ranks this year, and is now giving promise of stellar performances in the role of guard on the Calvert basketball squad, which is scheduled to engage some of the speediest prep school quintets in the East and Middle West.

This is Clyde's first year at Calvert Hall, but he jumped into the limelight almost immediately the football season got under way. Much credit for his splendid showing is due Dutch Lenz, head coach at Calvert Hall. In seven cage tilts to date Calvert has gone undefeated. The squad will encounter the strong Loyola five January 28, and again on February 23.

Clyde was formerly a student at St. Thomas Military academy at St. Paul, Minn.

REALTY BOARD MEETING

The North Shore Real Estate board will hold its regular January meeting Monday evening, January 17, at the Lake Shore Terrace. Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

The North End branch, Friends of the Chicago Junior school, will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Sovereign hotel, Chicago, Tuesday evening, January 18, at 8 o'clock. An entertainment will follow the meeting.

At the regular meeting of Wilmette Post No. 46, The American Legion, a comedy sketch was presented by that well known trio, Van Inwagen, Lippen and Orr, assisted by some lesser lights, after which luncheon was served.

A class in manufactured gas has been inaugurated at the College of Commerce of Northwestern university, in Chicago.
