

Kenilworth Club About to Close Its Season

The Kenilworth club is holding its last bridge luncheon for the season this afternoon. Mrs. J. C. Carpenter and Mrs. E. J. Hicks are hostesses for the day. About 150 reservations have been made. Mrs. Thomas White has been general chairman of the card parties for the season and with her able committee has given some delightful parties. The club has offered its members some very unusual entertainments and dances and all sorts of parties this season which has been one of the most successful in the history of the club. Herbert Taylor has been the president.

The last dinner dance of the club season is Friday evening, May 11. It will be, as the committee announces, "One final fling before the warm weather drives us out of doors. And the committee promises that the memory will linger until next fall. Every effort is being made to make this a most enjoyable party."

NOW AT GEORGIAN

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mock formerly of Kenilworth, who for a number of years have resided near San Diego, Cal., are staying at the Georgian in Evanston this summer. Mr. and Mrs. Mock together with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyer, own a large poultry farm in California to which they have devoted all of their time since leaving Kenilworth, and friends who have visited them there tell of their wonderful gardens and the splendidly equipped poultry accommodations they have installed on their property.

RETURN FROM FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Oleson have returned this week from two months spent at Sarasota, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Oleson own large acreage just outside of that city and have spent a large part of their vacation planting and landscaping it. They are very enthusiastic over the climate and pleasures of Florida and spend a part of every winter there.

Mrs. Lloyd Crossett, who has been with her daughter, Mrs. George Kingsley of Cumnor road since the automobile accident in which Lloyd Kingsley was so badly injured, has returned to her home in Geneseo, N. Y. Reports from the Evanston hospital are to the effect that Lloyd Kingsley, while he has still a long siege ahead of him at the hospital, is gaining steadily every day.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Cresap have moved back to Kenilworth from town and have opened their home on Warwick road. Mrs. Fannie Cope, (mother of Mrs. Cresap) who returned from Florida and Washington last week and was reported very ill, is better now and will soon be in Kenilworth again.

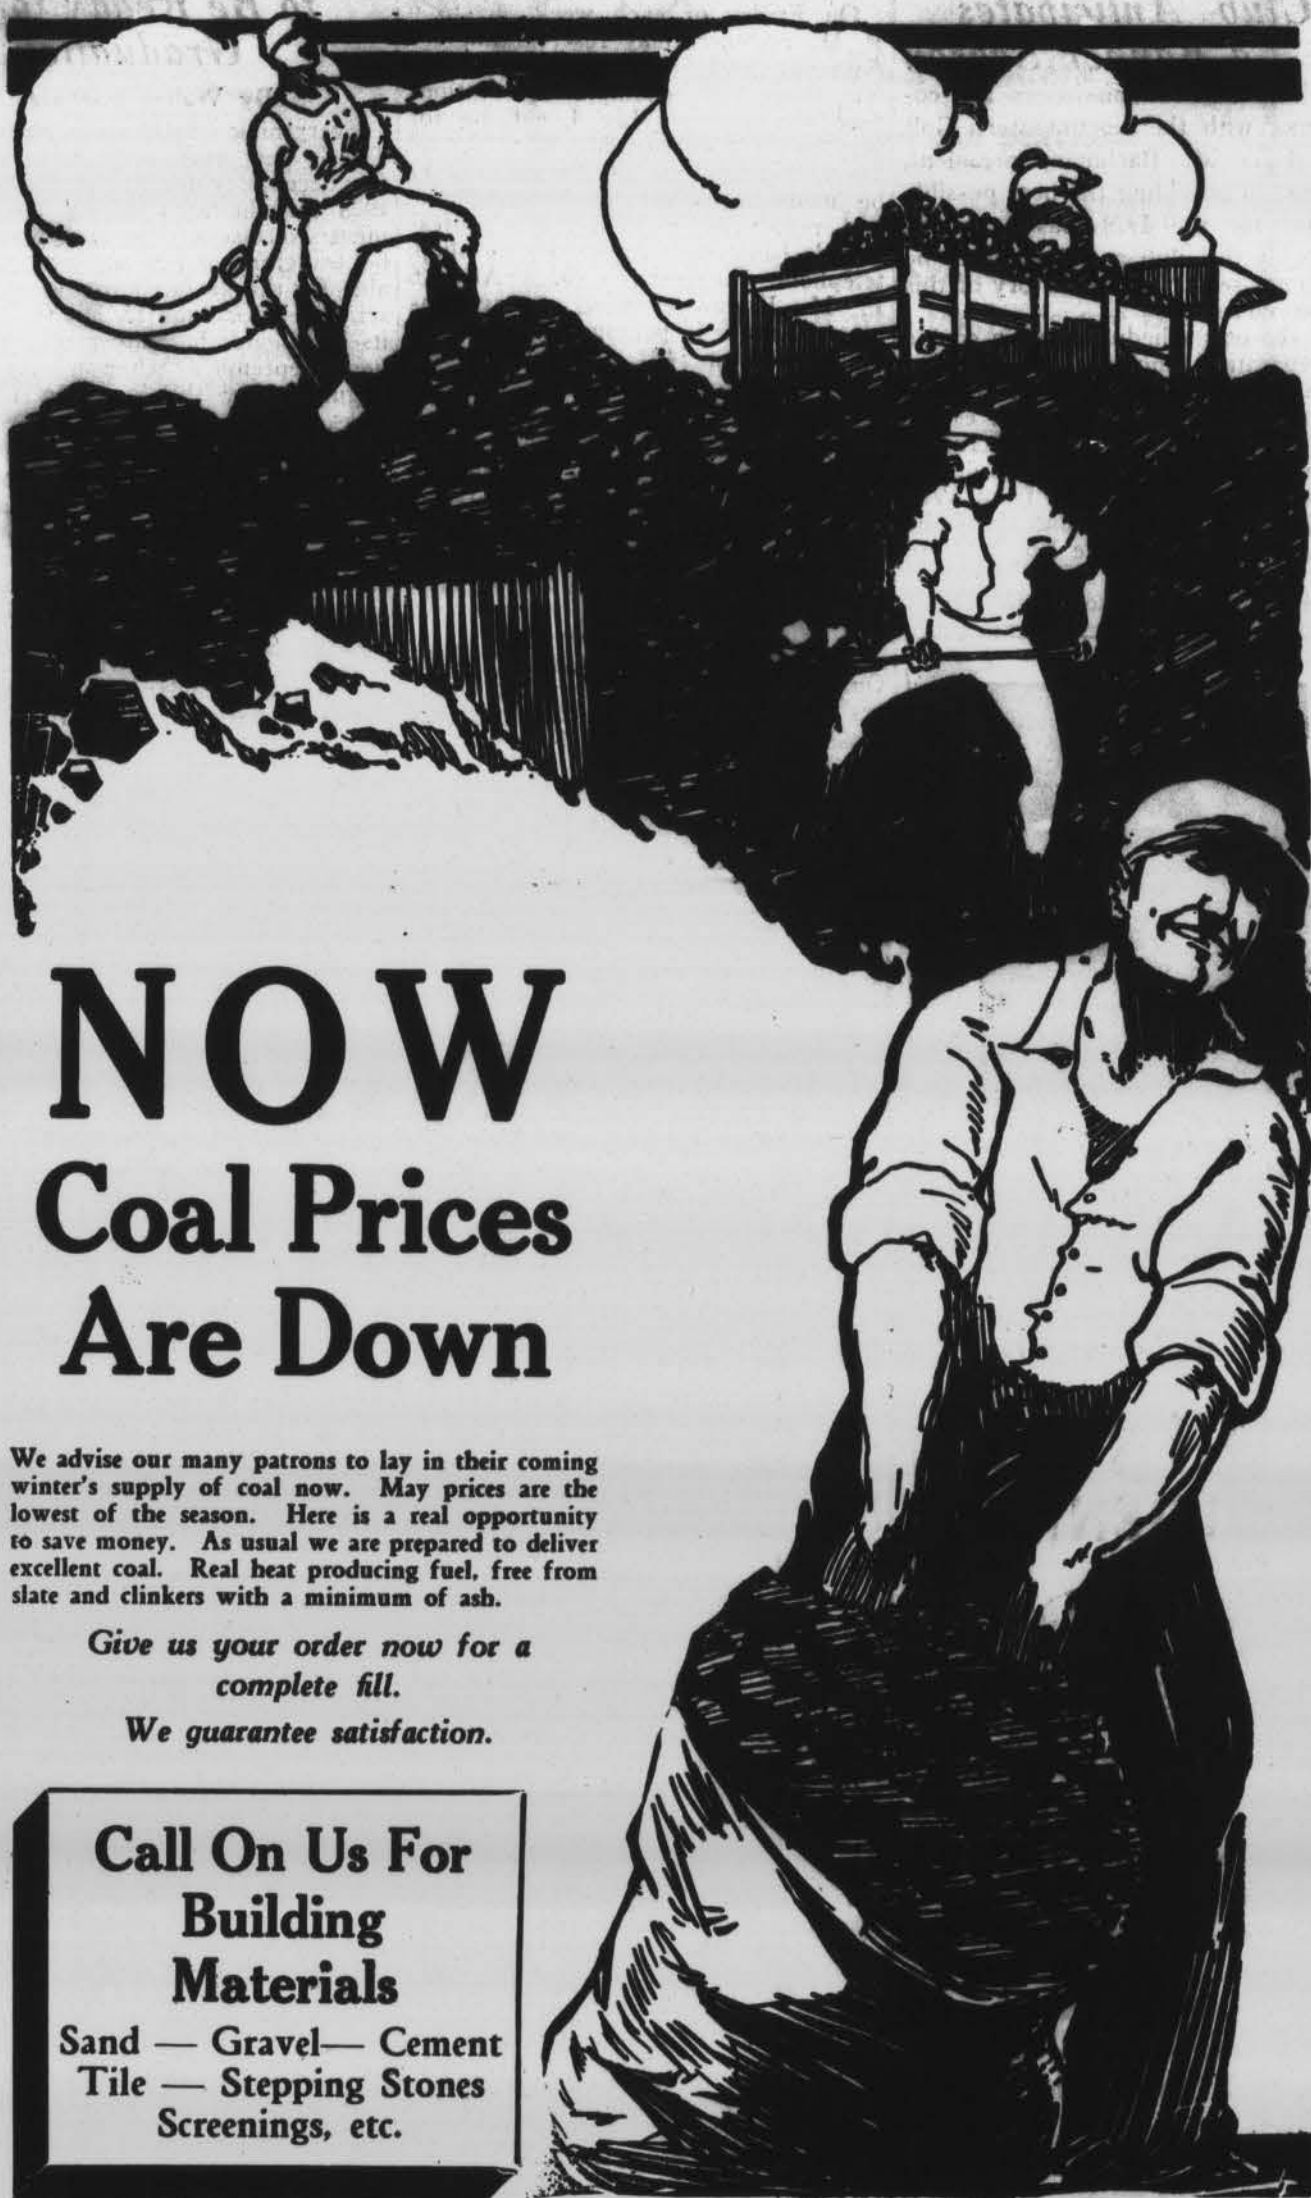

The Home and Garden club of Kenilworth met on Monday of this week at the home of Mrs. A. W. Wakeley on Leicester road. A representative from the Wagstaff landscape gardening company spoke on some of the "don'ts" in landscaping and gardening.

Mrs. E. J. Hicks entertained at luncheon on Tuesday of this week in honor of Mrs. Edwin Hedrick's birthday. There were nine guests.

Mrs. Sidney Ball will entertain her bridge and luncheon club next week Wednesday at her home in Indian Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taylor of Essex road have returned to Kenilworth from six weeks spent in California.

Edward Hamm, Jr. of Kenilworth is at Wesley Memorial hospital this week for an operation upon his nose.

NOW Coal Prices Are Down

We advise our many patrons to lay in their coming winter's supply of coal now. May prices are the lowest of the season. Here is a real opportunity to save money. As usual we are prepared to deliver excellent coal. Real heat producing fuel, free from slate and clinkers with a minimum of ash.

Give us your order now for a complete fill.

We guarantee satisfaction.

Call On Us For Building
Materials

Sand — Gravel — Cement
Tile — Stepping Stones
Screenings, etc.

SKOKIE VALLEY

Coal and Material Co.

West Lake Avenue
and C. & N. W. Tracks

Wilmette Telephones
Office 999
Res. 3114

Pioneers of the New Skokie Valley