Garden Talks

(Contributed by the Wilmette Garden Club.)

The opportunities to enjoy beautiful things are so many in this fortunate community in which we live that we accept them as a matter of course and seldom realize that all communities are not so favored.

I thought of this last Sunday when I entered a church on the south side of Chicago. My eye unconsciously sought the altar to see the flowers. What I saw was not pretty. A tall container of small diameter held a huge bunch of dull pink phlox whose stems were so tightly crowded together that one wondered that the flowers remained fresh. Whoever arranged them could not have cared for flowers. They looked crowded and uncomfortable.

When I reached home, the first thing that my eye fell upon as I entered the house was a basket of magnificently arranged flowers that had been sent over after the services from one of our Wilmette churches, for the benefit of the Plant, Flower, and Fruit guild. The flowers were simple ones—pink, gladioli, lavender and white stock, blue larkspur, and lilac buddleia. But the arrangement was the thing. An artist who loved flowers had created something very lovely with these flowers for her medium. That basket of flowers must have seemed like the spirit of beauty, on the altar in the morning, offering a gracious welcome to all who came.

Then it occurred to me that every Sunday in this church and in the other churches here, were other baskets of flowers, almost, if not quite as beautiful as this, and that we had become so accustomed to them that we did not

Wilmette's Police Catch Eight Youths Stealing in Vicinity

Eight Chicago youths, ranging in age from 12 to 17, were rounded up this week by Wilmette police officers as they attempted to steal from the Wilmette Golf club and from an abandoned car at Hibbard road and Lake avenue.

On Monday night about 9 o'clock Officer Joint caught four boys, the oldest only 14, in the act of stealing golf clubs and balls from the Wilmette Golf club. The boys gave their names as Joe Pantyka, 13, of 884 North Hermitage, Stanley Mitchell, 14, of 1217 North Lincoln, and two brothers, Joe Skupien, 12, and William Skupien, 13, both of 835 North Hermitage. The parents of the boys were called and the youths were ordered to keep out of Wilmette.

The following night at about the same time Motorcycle Policeman George Schaeffer and Officer Poppel caught four more Chicago youths as they were stripping a car belonging to Tony Campanale, of Winnetka, which had been wrecked in an accident the day previous and was left at the corner of Hibbard road and Lake avenue. The boys said their names were: Dan Trimmer, 15, of 7252 Pingree street, Fred Schwab, 16, of 7248 Pingree street, Carl Nelson, 15, and Gordon Nelson, 17, both of 2316 Greenleaf avenue, Chicago. The boys were turned over to the juvenile authorities of Rogers Park and their parents were notified.

even know who it was in each church who gave her time and thought and love, each Sunday, to this kindly service.
