Garden Talks

(Contributed by the Wilmette Garden Club)

Crocuses, snowdrops, and blue squills in bloom, grass growing green, everyone uncovering his garden, the spring flower show on at Garfield park, Mrs. Maud Jacobs giving her Monday morning lectures on gardening—

Can you wait until May 11, to buy the new plants for your garden?

Please do. For that is the day of the Third Annual Garden market of the Wilmette Garden club. Mrs. John F. Weedon, the president of the club, has invited the Evening Garden club to share the market with us and has appointed Mrs. C. D. Ewer, president of the club in 1925, chairman of the sale. Both clubs are to share the profits and the money will be spent as before, for village beautifying.

Each year the market increases in value and this year it will be on a larger scale than ever before. There will be several innovations, to be spoken of later.

All that we want to say at this date is—please resist the impulse to buy plants, shrubs, garden furniture, and tools until May 11. Then buy them from your garden clubs.

Mrs. W. Wallace Kerr, 707 Forest avenue, returned last Thursday from a three months' visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lathrop, of Melbourne, Fla., who are now in Evanston for six months.
