Hail, the Champions!

This group of fighting cage men, entitled the Skokie Reds, and recruited from among the most talented of ex-New Trier basketeers, has been cutting a clean swath up and down the shore through the late winter months. The Reds wound up the season by annexing the Evanston City league championship last week. Read 'em and rejoice—from left to right, (standing) Roy Nelson, Ralph Whitsett, Charles Lauer and Steve Fox; (kneeling) Bud Fraser, Russell Smith and Waldi Paletti.

Goodman Theater Presents 2 Irish Plays This Week

Two new Irish plays, "The Island of Saints" by St. John Ervine, and "The Shadow of a Gunman" by Sean O'Casey, were to have their premiere showings in America this week at the Goodman theater, Chicago. Both are by authors well known to the American public—Ervine, who is now in this country as guest dramatic critic of the New York World.
