GARY AND LUPE STAR

Young Hollywood Couple Have Leading Roles in "The Wolf Song," Norshore Attraction for the Week

Gary Cooper and Lupe Velez, who are known to movie fans as one of Hollywood's young unmarried couples, have the leading roles in "The Wolf Song," Norshore attraction for the week beginning this Saturday, April 13. Staged in the west and days of 1840 the picture has some alluring sets and scenery.

As one Sam Lash, Gary Cooper finds himself in an unfortunate condition when he tries to break the ties that bind him to Lupe Velez, known in the picture as the Senorita Lola Salazar. Gary had been just a free, wandering gringo until a pair of black eyes, a song, and a summer night had convinced him he wanted a wife.

But when Sam Lash has married he says, "I made a mistake. I ain't got no call to be married to any gal!" For the "wolf song" of the mountain men with whom he had ridden and camped and hunted rang disturbingly in his ears. He ruthlessly brushes off his protesting bride and strides forth toward freedom, only to discover that for him there is no such thing any more.

A leading American critic recently said, "There is something immensely droll and appealing about long, lank, curly headed Gary Cooper with his rare, sweet smile. Good actor!" His

"The Air Circus" Showing at Community House Today

"The Air Circus," featuring Sue Carol, David Rollins, and Arthur Lake, is being shown at the Community House in Winnetka two days this week, Friday and Saturday, April 12 and 13. The adventures of Rollins and Lake as fledgling aviators in a school of aviation form the basis of the plot.

David Rollins will be seen in another picture at Community House Tuesday, April 16, when he will appear in "Prep and Pep," a comedy drama of prep school days. Nancy Drexel has the leading feminine role. The story of this film was written especially for Fox Films by William Conselman and David Butler and the greater part of the picture was made at Culver Military academy in Indiana.

"Conquest," in which Warner Bros. present Mont Blue, Lois Wilson, H. B. Warner, and a great cast, will be the Community House picture offering for Friday and Saturday, April 19 and 20. Everyone who read Mary Imlay Taylor's novel, "The Candle in the Wind," from which "Conquest" has been taken, will recall the wealth of action contained in the story, which deals with the aerial exploration of the Antarctic.

fans will not be disappointed in this film.

The stage diversion at the Norshore for the week beginning this Saturday will be a big show called "Show Boat," with Al Kvale and the Jazz Collegians presiding.

Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall in Varsity Movie

The Dorothy Mackaill-Jack Mulhall combination again holds forth in "Children of the Ritz," now showing at the Varsity theater in Evanston. The tale is concerned with what happens in the life of the very rich and very fresh Miss Angela Pennington, whose father has nervous prostration and loses all his money, and who marries the family's handsome ex-chauffeur. Miss Mackaill, of course, plays the part of Miss Pennington, while Jack Mulhall is Dewey Haines, the ex-chauffeur who wins fifty thousand on a horse, enabling him and Angela to go to the Ritz to live.

"The Barker," with Milton Sills, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Betty Compson, Dorothy Mackaill, and others of lesser importance, will be shown at the Varsity for three days, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, April 15, 16, and 17. It is a human and humorous story of circus life. Milton Sills plays the barker, Betty Compson his temperamental sweetheart, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., his son, and Dorothy Mackaill the boy's sweetheart. "The Barker" has been ranked near the top of recent film releases. Richard Bennett, now appearing in "Jarnegan" at the Selwyn theater, Chicago, had the title role of "The Barker" when it was presented on the stage.
