

ARDEN SHORE OPENS

Fresh Air Camp All Ready for Season of Good Times; Directors Make Final Arrangements

All set for the pleasantest summer ever, confident that the weather will be ideal and everything go most happily, Arden shore's directors met Friday at the Lake Bluff fresh air camp and completed arrangements for opening of the camp this week.

For the last week or so things have been in the usual mad scramble that precedes so many-sided a venture as the beginning of camp life there for the scores of women and children brought out for various terms of outings at Arden shore; but order has come out of chaos and all is in readiness and better equipped than ever before, according to directors, for serving these friends of the camp, many of whom come there annually.

Among other things there is a fine new bus this year to supplement the bus provided for transportation of the youngsters from train to camp, and to be devoted entirely to the mothers with babies. The beach house that was built last year, overlooking the lake and open on three sides, offers again a cool and restful retreat wherein the mothers gather to visit and sing and do their family mending and sewing. All the cottages and other houses are in shipshape and awaiting the use of the campers—between 300 and 400—who will make up the first group of the season and arrive today.

Arden Shore is open at all times for visits of those interested and a cordial welcome is extended to the public.

Clarence Robey, 31, Has Taken His Last Picture

Clarence Robey, of Chicago, who saw much of life through the lens of a camera, will shoot no more pictures. At 31, death claimed the photographer in the Rogers Park hospital on Monday.

Readers probably will remember some of the pictures he took for this paper several months ago and they'll say that he "knew how to take pictures." On sunshiny days and in winter blasts he'd come out to the north shore in his spare time to make pictures because we asked him to help out "in the pinch." It was "in the pinch" that he was at his best.

He was president of the Camera Men's association of Chicago, an organization of newspaper photographers. He was a member of the Chicago Evening American staff. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Louise Robey, and his father, William Robey.

Gladys Howard Completes Training at Art School

Miss Gladys Howard, daughter of A. A. Howard, 1514 Lake avenue, Wilmette, has successfully completed her year's training at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, 18 S. Michigan avenue, Chicago. Miss Howard found her course highly interesting and instructive under the guidance of Carl Werntz, director of the Chicago Academy, and a competent faculty of noted artists. She expects to return in the fall.

Miss Barbara Crowe, 234 Raleigh road, Kenilworth spent last week at a house party in Akron, Ohio. Her brother, Roger, is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. W. Lee Crowe in Owosso, Mich. Roger plans to stay there until after the Fourth of July.

Mrs. Hollis Gleason, 910 Chestnut avenue, and Mrs. John Boylston, 1302 Chestnut avenue, entertained at a luncheon last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Boylston.

Mrs. Frank M. Hicks Dies at Pasadena on June 17

Word has been received from Pasadena, California, that Mrs. Frank M. Hicks, formerly of Abbottsford road, Kenilworth, passed away on Monday, June 17, in Pasadena. Mr. Hicks, who is at present seriously ill, will come to Chicago soon to bury his wife at the Graceland cemetery. No definite plans for the funeral have been made.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUBJECT

"Christian Science" will be the subject of the services in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Wilmette Sunday morning, June 30, at 11 o'clock. Sunday school convenes at 9:45 o'clock.

Friends of Dinsmore Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wheeler formerly of Kenilworth will be interested in the announcement that Dinsmore, who has been seriously ill for more than a year, is progressing as well as can be expected. He is now at the Wheeler farm near Huron, Ohio.

John Rathbone, Jr., 523 Abbottsford road, Kenilworth entertained at a dinner party at Skokie Country club before the dance last Saturday night.
