Coats use fur luxuriously. In the coats here you find the fur twined in opulent curves around the sleeves—sometimes as far as the elbow. The deep rolling fur collar seen on some of Lelong's coats, is seen, too, in the coats in our collection.

There are elaborately-flared coats—and some with pert flares that reach just above the knee. The furs featured are

Caracul, Beaver, Persian
Lamb Platinum Wolf and Black Fox.

Dresses are of shimmering transparent velvet—or of flat crepe—and occasionally of georgette and velvet used in combination. There is much lace—deep lace capes—collar and cuff sets of the demure type, even on afternoon dresses. Longer skirts are confirmed by Paris openings.
