

N. U. Players to Present Drama of Hawaiian Islands

"The Breeding Stones," a play written by Miss Josephine Blackstock of the Playwriting class, Northwestern University, school of speech, will be given December 10, 11, and 12, with another night being added if the ticket demands call for it.

A dramatic story depicting the relations of American tourists to native life in the Hawaiian islands, brings out the theme of the play. The leads are being played by Ethel Swift, who had the lead in "Undercurrent" which went on the road for a season, and Fred DeCordova, who has had motion picture experience with Warner Brothers, and has played on the legitimate boards at the Blackstone theater in "Elmer the Great," which starred Walter Huston.

This play contains an interesting local color in setting, music, dancing, and old customs of these islands. Native life and customs are to predominate and the story works to such a pitch that the old Priest, in protection of his little granddaughter, prays to death Laura Sprague, the American tourist.

An eight-foot wooden God has been fashioned by the students to be used in the solemn scenes of worship. Atmosphere is to be created by the use of steel guitars, ukes, Hawaiian singing, Hula dancing, grass skirts, etc.

Reservations may be made by calling the University theater office between 10 and 12 in the morning and 2 and 5 in the afternoon.

The play is to be given in Annie May

Swift hall in the Evanston campus at 8:30 o'clock. Mrs. Charlotte B. Chorpenning is the director.

TO DISCUSS "THE AXE"

The Kenilworth Study class will meet on Monday afternoon, December 9, at 2:15 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Rufus Stolp on Warwick road. Mrs. W. D. MacClintock will discuss "The Axe."

Miss Alta Dee Belshe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Luther Belshe, 530 Forest avenue, Wilmette, returned from Monticello seminary at Godfrey, Ill., to spend Thanksgiving day.

Kenilworth Man Killed by Train in Winnetka

Funeral services for John Connley, 45, of 616 Rogers avenue, Kenilworth, who was killed by a Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee train at the Tower road crossing in Winnetka last Saturday night, were held Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Sacred Heart church in Hubbard Woods. Burial was at Sacred Heart cemetery. Mr. Connley is survived by his widow and four children, Barbara, 14; Catherine, 13; Michael, 12; and John, Jr., 6. The details of the accident in which Connley was killed are unknown. A coroner's jury meeting on Monday afternoon returned a verdict of accidental death.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON TODAY

Mrs. Fred S. White, 234 Woodland avenue, Winnetka is entertaining thirty-six of her friends at luncheon and bridge this afternoon at Shawnee club.

Mrs. Stanley K. Gage, 932 Elmwood avenue, was hostess to members of the Comanci club at luncheon and bridge at the Medinah Athletic club last Tuesday.

SUITS and OVERCOATS

Hundreds of the Very Newest Ones in Our Complete Selections

$50
at

SUITS WITH ONE OR TWO TROUSERS
IN OUR EVANSTON SHOP

YOU don't know what fine clothing $50 will buy until you have seen our remarkable Stein-Bloch "Tailored Fifty" Suits and Overcoats. Controlling our source of supply has made it possible to very definitely guarantee greater values than ever before. New mid-season pattern and style developments are arriving almost continuously—selections are at their best. Overcoats in every model and weave. Suits with one or two trousers in just the shade you want.

THE HUB

HENRY C. LYTTON & SONS

Stein Bloch Clothes

STATE and JACKSON, CHICAGO ORRINGTON and CHURCH, EVANSTON
Evanston Shop Open Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday Evenings

TECS

A New Xmas
Gift

Shoe Covers That

Keep shoes clean at home.
Keep Clothes clean when traveling. 75c a pair.

Daniel Green Comfy's

Complete the Negligee Ensemble

Black and green satin Pajama Slippers

Black and pink satin Heel Strap Mules

Patent, red, blue and black kid D'Orsays

THE ARCH PRESERVER SHOE SHOP

626 Church St., Evanston