

Cathedral Project at Washington to Be Lecture Theme

The Rev. Alfred J. Wilder, of Washington D. C., will lecture on Tuesday evening May 27, at 8 o'clock at the Kenilworth club, Kenilworth, on an undertaking which has aroused widespread interest throughout the country. He will tell of the nation-wide movement now in progress to hasten the completion of the great Washington cathedral where Woodrow Wilson lies buried. There will be no admission charge and the general public will be welcomed, it was stated by the Rev. Leland H. Danforth, rector of the Church of the Holy Comforter in Kenilworth.

The Rev. Mr. Wilder has lectured on the cathedral building project before gatherings in many important cities throughout the country in recent months and is becoming widely known as a preacher and lecturer. Prior to his association with the cathedral, he was rector of St. Alban's in Detroit, Mich. He also at one time was Dean of Marquette and Archdeacon of that diocese.

He will present a series of beautifully colored stereopticon slides, illustrating the beauty of the cathedral together with the loveliness of the landscape development. More than sixty slides will be shown. They will include architects' drawings of the various institutions planned for the cathedral property, views of great services, landscape vistas and scenes in the national capital.

In his lecture Mr. Wilder will touch on the romantic achievements of the modern cathedral builders who during the past decade have transformed a wooded hillside in Washington into a center of spiritual activity visited annually by more than 300,000 worshipers and pilgrims. He will tell of the establishment of cathedral schools for boys and girls, of the beginnings of a College of Preachers, and of other interesting developments.

The Rev. Mr. Wilder will be the preacher at the Church of the Holy Comforter Sunday morning, May 25. His subject will be "Spirituality in a Cathedral."

North Shore Students Achieve Illini Honors

Friday of this week was Honors day at the University of Illinois, an annual event held in honor of those students of the university who have excelled in scholarship. Wilmette, Kenilworth, Winnetka and Glencoe are among the towns in the state which are represented in the list honored.

Students whose grades are in the upper ten percent of each class are distinguished by the words "High Scholarship" and are entitled to have their names printed in the convocation program. Six students from Wilmette, four from Glencoe, one from Winnetka and one from Kenilworth won this distinction.

The north shore students thus honored are: Dorland J. Davis, Ruth Lambert Drayer, Carlyle G. Duncan-Clark, Robert A. Harper, Joseph A. Turck and Edward G. Watson of Wilmette; May Elizabeth Richards, Virginia Margaret Dean, Jean Isabelle Gerber and Winslow M. Wright of Glencoe; Winthrop Richards of Kenilworth, and Martin L. Cassell of Winnetka.

REPORT CONTAGIONS

Three new cases of communicable disease were reported in Wilmette for the week ending Wednesday, May 14, one of scarlet fever and two of chicken pox, according to the Wilmette Health department records. Other contagious disease cases still active in the village include one of chicken pox and four of scarlet fever.

Mrs. Collins H. Slayton and her son, Jack, of 617 Washington avenue, returned the latter part of last week from a three weeks' sojourn in Fairhope, Ala. Mrs. Charles Sanford Clarke of 526 Washington avenue returned with them.
