PUSH TICKET SALE

Wilmette C. of C. to Have Turkey Dinner At Annual Banquet; Col. Robert Isham Randolph to Speak

With less than two weeks left before the annual Wilmette Chamber of Commerce banquet is to be held on Wednesday, November 19, officials of the organization are pushing the sale of tickets. Thus far only a third of the desired number has been sold.

The Chamber is promising those who attend the banquet not only an excellent program, but a good turkey dinner. The affair will be held at the Wilmette Masonic temple, 1010 Central avenue.

Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, will be the speaker. The Four Aces, singing instrumentalists, will sing and play during the dinner. Announcement was also made at the regular meeting of the Chamber Monday night of this week that one of the best humorists in the Middle West would entertain at the banquet.

Open To Everyone

Officials of the Chamber of Commerce feel especially fortunate in being able to secure Colonel Randolph as the speaker at this year's banquet, and they are emphasizing that the banquet is not for members of the Chamber of Commerce only, but is open to all Wilmette residents. It will be entirely informal.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce offices and at the following business places: Dominic Pagliarulo's jewelry store, William Taylor Dry Goods store, First National bank (E. B. Knudtson), Wilmette Stationery and Gift shop, Snider-Cazel Drug store, Pearson's market on Ridge road, Ridge Avenue pharmacy, East End market near the "L" terminal, R. M. Johnston real estate office, Wolff-Griffis Hardware store and Wilmette Playground and Recreation board office (Daniel M. Davis).
