

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Cooke of 255 Kenilworth avenue, left Kenilworth on Thursday of this week for a trip to Philadelphia, Washington, and New York. Before their return they will visit their son, Richard, at Princeton.

Mrs. Harry S. Corey of Richmond, Va. who is a sister of Mrs. William E. Suits of 211 Warwick road, Kenilworth and who has been visiting her for the past two months, is returning to her home this week.

RACKLIN'S

100% PURE ORANGE JUICE—
GRAPEFRUIT JUICE—LEMON JUICE
Delivered Daily to Your Home Just Like Milk
For a Trial Order Just Phone Winnetka 3566

TO BE HEARD SUNDAY

The Lerner String quartet will give the second of a series of three chamber music concerts at the Studebaker theater on Sunday afternoon, November 9, at 3:30 o'clock, under the direction of Bertha Ott.

PLAYS NOV. 23

Madeline Seifer, one of Chicago's most talented young pianists, will give a recital at the Civic theater on Sunday afternoon, November 23, at 3 o'clock, under the direction of Bertha Ott.

Entertaining Play to Open Season of Dramatic Club

(Contributed)

Jean Webster's play, "Daddy Long Legs," will open the season for the New Trier Dramatic club. It is to be presented on Saturday night, November 15, at New Trier High school.

We find that Judy Abbott, intelligent and full of fun, but totally inexperienced socially, is given her chance in life after eighteen years in an orphan asylum. At Vassar she rooms with two girls who know nothing of her past but admire her for her lack of conventionality and her high spirits.

When questioned as to her parentage Judy answers that she is descended from the first man ever hanged in the United States.

Although she does not know her benefactor's name, Judy speaks of him as "Daddy Long Legs." Her guardian, Mr. Jervis Pendleton, is the uncle of one of Judy's room-mates, and he comes to the college for a visit.

Jervis, anxious to see how she is getting along, holds an interesting bit of conversation with her.

"Did you ever read Hamlet?" she asks Br. Pendleton.

"Yes."

"Isn't it corking?"

"Eh?"

Judy continues, "Every night I put myself to sleep by pretending that I'm the heroine of whatever book I'm reading. Do you ever do that?"

"I never have," replies Jervis.

"Just now I'm Ophelia!"

"Ophelia?"

"Hamlet and I are married. The king and queen are dead. But Hamlet didn't kill them. They just died of pneumonia."

Judy also remarks that her parents were swallowed up by an earthquake.

"You hold a unique position, Miss Judy," says Pendleton, holding out his hand. "Allow me to congratulate you."

Judy regards him with surprise. "Do you want me to shake hands with you again? I just did it. Oh, I'm willing to, but I thought you musn't shake hands with the same man more than once in an afternoon. I read that in a book of etiquette."

"What's a book of etiquette between friends?"

Civic Opera Gives Brilliant Week-end

This week end at the Civic Opera House brings a performance of "Lohengrin" on Saturday afternoon, "The Jewels of the Madonna" on Saturday evening, and "Manon" on Sunday afternoon.

"Lohengrin" will be sung in German by Lotte Lehmann, Maria Olszewska, Rene Maison, Hans Hermann Nissen, Alexander Kipnis, and will be conducted by Egon Pollak.

"The Jewels of the Madonna" will be sung in Italian by Rosa Raisa as Maliella, Marie Claessens as Carmela, Antonio Cortis as Gennaro, and Giacomo Rimini as Rafaele. The ballet will be headed by Ruth Pryor, with Edward Caton, Julia Brashkova, Marion Finholt, and the rest of the ballet assisting.

"Manon" on Sunday is to be sung in French by Mary McCormic in the name part, and Charles Hackett as the Chevalier des Grieux. Octave Dua is to be Guillot, Jean Vieuille is Lescaut, Desire Deferere is de Bretigny, and Edouard Cotreuil, Comte des Grieux.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert M. Antrim, 1136 Ashland avenue, recently spent a week-end at Ann Arbor, Mich.

You are "there" •• by Telephone!

WHY not telephone your son or daughter away at school and join in the fun they are having. If the boy's fraternity is having a dance tonight, telephone him and listen to the happiness in his young, manly voice. You may even be able to hear the music and laughter—carried right into your home by the telephone.

Your children in distant schools want you to share in their joys—it is the least they can do to repay you for what you are doing for them. Long Distance telephone service makes it easy for you to "visit" them. Call that boy or girl today! You will get a thrill that repays, many times over, the small cost of the Long Distance telephone call.

Bell Lines Reach Everywhere

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

BELL SYSTEM

One Policy

One System

Universal Service

