GIRLS AHEAD IN HONOR RATINGS*Lead Boys in First Month's Scholastic Record at New Trier High School

Nine New Trier High school students, six boys and three girls, had straight "A" averages for their scholastic records during the first month of the present school term. A straight "A" average is the highest a student can attain.

Students who succeeded in making this average were: David Crawford, Paul Gilbert, Amy Clagett, Frances Lutz and Gertrude Winzenburg, seniors; Charles Venrich, a junior, and John Griffith, James Kingery and John Mathieson, freshmen.

The boys at New Trier High school outnumber the girls 979 to 925. Despite this fact, the first scholastic honor list of the year contained the names of 170 girls and only 120 boys.

Ninety girls and 61 boys were listed on the honor roll, composed of students who have an average above "B." There were 80 girls and 59 boys on the honorable mention list, composed of students with an average equal to "B."
