Church Arranges for Annual Village Fair

The Village Christmas Fair, sponsored by the Wilmette Methodist church, will be held December 3, 4 and 5. Various groups are hard at work arranging for attractive booths, dinners and entertainments. The men are planning a men's booth, a miniature golf course and a minstrel show. The young people will have a candy booth, a grab-bag in the guise of a snow-man and an orangeade stand. A dozen Christmas-like booths will offer a great variety of lovely things suitable for gifts. The Fair will open with a turkey dinner Wednesday, December 3, at 6 o'clock and continue until Friday night. Luncheon will be served every day at noon and there will be a dinner and entertainment each evening. A more detailed announcement will appear in next week's WILMETTE LIFE.

Mothers Approve Plan for Pre-Kindergarten

A group of mothers interested in the formation of a pre-school kindergarten under the supervision of the Wilmette public schools met in the kindergarten room at the Wilmette Parish Methodist church Wednesday afternoon, November 5, to discuss the possibility of organizing such a kindergarten. The school authorities plan to go ahead with the organization of the pre-school kindergarten in the kindergarten rooms of the Methodist church provided that enough parents are interested in the plan. Mothers who are interested and who were unable to attend the meeting last Wednesday are requested to telephone the school offices, Wilmette 1618.

Haig Kashian, Wilmette rug dealer with business at 1107 Greenleaf avenue, has decided to give his leisure time over to the business of instructing north shore folk in the art of playing backgammon, an old game that has come into vogue again—and how! Mr. Kashian's qualifications are based upon some thirty years of professional playing at backgammon throughout Europe. He teaches the game as it is played in Arabia, the home of backgammon.
