

BOYS HAVE BANQUET

The boys of the seventh and eighth grade of the Joseph Sears school had a banquet at the school Friday night. Both grades are divided into two teams the Tigers and Wild Cats and each year the losing team gives a banquet to the victorious one. The captains of the teams this year were Stephen Woodhead, Stephen Johnson, Jack Holden, and David Elmgren. During the evening various kinds of competition between the boys took place.

Virgil Lewis, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Lewis of 1420 Lake avenue, is home from Tower Hill school at Dundee to spend Thanksgiving and the week-end with his parents.

N. T. Athlete Stars With Dartmouth Frosh

Thomas D. Hicks, New Trier High school graduate, has been awarded his class numerals by the Dartmouth college athletic council for his work on the freshman football team of the college this fall, according to word reaching the high school from the Dartmouth college news service. Hicks was captain of the New Trier varsity football team last year.

The Alpha Gamma Delta mothers' club held its meeting Friday afternoon, November 21, at the chapter house in Evanston. Bridge was played after an informal business meeting.

Mildred Olson Weds Saturday, Nov. 22

Miss Mildred Elizabeth Olson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Aaron M. Olson, became the bride of Harry Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Swan Pearson of Chicago, at a candlelight service Saturday evening. The guests included relatives, a few intimate friends, and Alpha Chi Omega sorority sisters of the bride. Dr. J. W. F. Davies of the Winnetka Congregational church performed the ceremony at 8:30 o'clock in the living room of the Olson home at 618 Brier street, Kenilworth. The room was decorated with chrysanthemums for the occasion.

The bride, who was unattended, wore a white satin gown and tulle veil, and carried a bouquet of button chrysanthemums and talisman roses.

Until September, when they moved to Kenilworth, Dr. and Mrs. Olson lived at 630 Walden road, Winnetka.

SINGS FOR D. A. R.

Mrs. Dorothy Cordts of Wilmette, contralto, sang last week at a meeting of the Fort Dearborn chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Evanston. Mrs. Margaret Hammond was her accompanist.

Alvin Culver, Jr., 103 Broadway, played left tackle on the Notre Dame team last Saturday. Alvin leaves December 6, with the team, for California where they are scheduled to play the University of Southern California during the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. W. C. Lewis, 201 Kenilworth avenue, Kenilworth, entertained twenty-five guests, members of the board of the Chicago Junior school, at luncheon at her home last Monday.

A. W. Smalley Tells of Words and Their Styles

A large and attentive audience greeted Archibald W. Smalley at the morning session of the Woman's club of Wilmette Wednesday, November 19. Mr. Smalley's subject was "Fashions in Words." He took his audience on a mental journey back to the times many of our current words came into being, pointed out the changes in construction and meaning which had come to them and reminded his hearers that in this changing world we must expect words to change as well as other things.

He favors and predicted a much simpler form of spelling in many of our current words. It was a most satisfying talk and a very responsive audience.

At the noon hour Miss Nell Moore, supervisor of the primary grades at Central school, gave a most helpful and delightfully informal talk on "How to Stimulate Our Children to Read Better Books." Miss Moore feels that parents should not urge their children to read books because they are good and acceptable in the mind of an adult nor because of credits available, but she strongly recommended "exposing" the children to good books on various subjects and allowing them to choose those in which they are interested and can understand.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hurtt and their daughter, Betty Jean, of 708 Park avenue, spent the week-end in Lafayette, Ind., as the guests of Judge and Mrs. Homer Henneger. They also attended the Indiana-Purdue football game.
