

Basketball Takes Center of Stage in N. U. Athletics

With a successful gridiron season out of the way, the athletic scene at Northwestern will shift shortly to Patten gymnasium where Coach Arthur Lonborg has had his basketball squad in practice for several weeks.

A squad of some twenty men has been working out three times a week, and will start daily practice sessions immediately, in order to get in shape for the opening game of the season with Bradley on December 8.

The Bradley team is expected to give the Wildcats a real test for the lid lifter. Bradley won the Little Nineteen championship last year and in addition bumped off several Big Ten teams, including Illinois and Iowa. Three days later on December 11 the Purple cagers journey to South Bend for the first of two games with the Irish. Other practice games include: Carleton, December 20; Alabama, December 31, and Notre Dame January 3. All three will be played in Patten gymnasium.

Coach Lonborg faces the season with the loss of three regulars from last year's combination. They are Rut Walter, forward, Rus Bergherm, center, and Merrill Mundy, guard. All three were top notchers, and attempts to fill their places with the material available is going to be quite a task.

Heading the list of those returning is Captain Bert Riel, whose scoring ability at forward was one of the biggest features in the Purple victories last season. The other lettermen available are Bob Mails, forward, Bob McCarnes, center or guard, and Frank Marshall, Dal Marvil, and Bob Lockhart, guards. Marshall has been out of school for a year, but still seems to have plenty of the ability which made him a star two years ago.

Several sophomore candidates are showing promise and may make some of the lettermen step for their jobs. Chet Perry, Phil Seghi, and Elmer Johnson, forwards; Bill Foster and Joe Rieff, centers, and Marvin Moonshower and Saul Farber, guards, are the outstanding players among the new men.

ON D. OF 1812 PROGRAM

The United States Daughters of 1812 of the state of Illinois will hold the annual luncheon at 12:30 o'clock, Wednesday, December 3, at the Auditorium hotel. The reading by Mrs. Wickliffe I. Cable, an address, "An Outgrown Grudge" by E. Clinton Chamberlain, "Treaty of Ghent" by Mrs. Arthur J. O'Neill, and solos and duets by Mrs. Constance March Jenks, soprano, and Mrs. Kathleen March Strain, contralto, will comprise the program.

Guild Bridge and Sale Proves Large Success

On November 19, the women of the Church of the Holy Comforter gave their annual benefit bridge card party at the Kenilworth club beginning at 2 in the afternoon. Those in charge of the tea tables were Mrs. Burt Crowe; Mrs. William Taylor, and Mrs. Carolyn Elsworth. In connection with the card party a Cake sale and a Miscellaneous sale were held, with Mrs. W. A. Smythe, Mrs. Fred Smith, and Mrs. W. O. Belt in charge of the former and Mrs. Jack Carruthers and Mrs. David Saunders at the head of the latter. The card party was a huge success and was well attended. Individual table prizes were given also. Mrs. Armand Peycke of Kenilworth was in full charge and is the president of the Rector's Aid society.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Younker, 349 Sheridan road, Winnetka, were at home informally Thanksgiving afternoon and evening in honor of their daughter, Helen Younker, and Edgar Moss, whose engagement recently was announced.

CARDS OUT FOR TEA

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mayo of Evanston have issued cards for a tea at the Glenview Country club on December 6, in honor of Mrs. Peter Mayo, who is recent bride from Toronto, Canada. Both Ernest Mayo and Peter Mayo, architects of prominence, are well known for their beautiful buildings in Kenilworth, Wilmette, and all along the north shore.

Mrs. Arthur Adair of Melrose avenue, Kenilworth entertained her sewing club on Monday of this week.
