60c on the $

Here is a test of your ability to KNOW values.

If you really want quality-furniture you will be proud of in years to come, buy at this sale. In many advertised sales you will find special prices on the pieces advertised. When you actually look at the furniture you thought you would like, you were disappointed. In this sale we have no leaders, nothing special to advertise. The entire stock is marked at prices no other store can consistently duplicate. No store can long operate at such close margins. Earnest, shrewd buyers who want more than they can usually find in exchange for cash will take advantage of this opportunity.

Distressed stocks of manufacturers have been liquidated. Therefore low-priced merchandise, now advertised, is the same furniture you have always seen displayed, in every season, at about the same figure. Manufacturers have not and cannot cut their cost of production to any lower levels. If you doubt the values you may see here—shop at other stores first for only then can you appreciate how large will be your saving. Manufacturers' prices are again on the rise. You will pay forty percent more for the same quality later on. Furniture in stock only will be sold at these sale prices. Those who come early will be rewarded.
