Declares Amos 'n' Andy Are Great as Linguists

Ralf Harolde, who plays the "heavy" in Radio Pictures' feature comedy, "Check and Double Check," starring Amos 'n' Andy on Thursday and Friday, January 15 and 16 at Teatro del Lago, declares they are the world's greatest linguists. "Throughout the production," Harolde asserts, "I was amazed at the rapidity with which they translated the dialog for the picture into their own particular dialect. They took the longest sentences, and after one brief glance turned them back-end-to, upside down and crossways, then spoke them in their own inimitable fashion!"

Helen Twelvetrees Has Many Outside Interests

Helen Twelvetrees, who enacts the leading feminine role in "The Cat Creeps," to be shown at the Teatro del Lago on Sunday and Monday, January 11 and 12, is interested in many things outside her work, including boxing matches, cooking, swimming, wire haired fox terriers, golfing, sewing, horseback riding and every kind of music—"anything from jazz to Wagner." And with it all Miss Twelvetrees necessarily finds much time to devote to her screen work.

TWO INDIANS ACT

Standing Bear and Blue Cloud, full-blooded Indians who have been acting in motion pictures for several years, have important business in the plot of "Spanish Acres," as narrated by Paramount on the talking screen under the title, "The Santa Fe Trail," on Saturday, January 10, at the Teatro del Lago.

Teatro del Lago Presenting Movie of Amos 'n' Andy

Amos 'n' Andy will be in town—seen as well as heard.

Their much-heralded talkie, "Check and Double Check" will line up crowds at the beautiful Teatro del Lago on Thursday and Friday, January 15 and 16.

Throngs will want to see Amos 'n' Andy, who appear in no dashing heroic role as Richard Dixes or John Gilberts, but rather as themselves, the quaint, wistful, winning and warmly human partners of the Fresh Air Taxicab company.

"Check and Double Check" with all pomp and panoply of the Mystic Knights of the Sea, the Kingfish, Madame Queen, Lightning and all the rest of the characters made famous on the air, together with a cast which includes Sue Carol as the dainty feminine lead, Irene Rich, Rita LaRoy, Charles Morton, Ralf Harolde and Edward Martindale, is the first talking picture appearance of Amos 'n' Andy.

Crisp short subjects also make the screen of the Teatro del Lago alive with educational and humorous features.

Indians Star in Film

"The Silent Enemy" is the film to be shown today, Friday, January 9, at the Teatro del Lago. The silent enemy is Hunger, and his opponents are the Obijway Indians roaming the forests and plains of the north country before Columbus conceived the idea that the world was round. Every member of the cast is Indian, and the struggle with Hunger is conducted against a background of magnificent natural scenery.

Richard Arlen, Rosita Moreno, new Latin beauty, Eugene Pallette, Mitzi Green and Junior Durkin are some of the featured players in "The Santa Fe Trail" at the Teatro del Lago on Saturday, January 10. Nature's outdoor visions, dauntless men, courageous conduct from coquettish hearts, delightful love moments, homespun humor, strong characterizations and a climax of smashing thrills all distinguish this picture.

Redskins will ride in the serial, "The Indians Are Coming," at the Saturday matinee only in the Teatro del Lago.

Who Killed Crosby?

While seeking the answer to a question, the Teatro del Lago patrons will experience pleasant shivers, thrills and chills during the show, "The Cat Creeps," on Sunday and Monday, January 11 and 12. The query is: Who killed Lawyer Crosby? Who, out of a half dozen people gathered in a deserted house at midnight, murdered the one man who seemed to have discovered the source of the mysterious power that menaced them all?

"The Cat Creeps," adapted by Universal from the famous stage thriller, "The Cat and the Canary," includes in its all-star cast: Helen Twelvetrees, Raymond Hackett, Lilian Tashman, Neil Hamilton, Jean Hersholt, Montague Love, Lawrence Grant and Blanche Frederici. Rupert Julian directed.

Three leading farceurs of the screen in the main roles emphasizes the comedy element of Clara Bow's latest fun hit, "Her Wedding Night," the Teatro del Lago feature on Tuesday and Wednesday, January 13 and 14. The trio of solemn funsters is composed of Ralph Forbes, Charlie Ruggles and Skeets Gallagher.
