

Save Without Sacrifice

It is not necessary to sacrifice the convenience of frequent delivery, telephone ordering, finest quality or a charge account in an effort to save a few dollars each month.

We own our store building and the consequent large rental saving far exceeds the cost of these special services, leaving a good margin with which to meet competition's lowest prices. Of course, we handle no inferior merchandise.

Whir of Activity at Homes' Exhibit

With the whir of vacuum cleaners and the steady pulse of great electric iceboxes coming from one corner of the room, and furniture exhibits and new hardware devices and delicious candy on display seen in another room, the visitors at the third annual Better Homes exposition are introduced to the delights of modern housekeeping as they pass from one booth to another at the Woman's club in Wilmette.

All the housekeeping articles are fascinatingly exhibited and in sauntering about, the visitors see the romance in a kitchen and the beauty that can be in a home.

The exposition, which is sponsored by the ways and means committee of the Woman's club of Wilmette, will close tonight. It has attracted women from all along the north shore. On the opening day sixteen hundred visitors had passed through the display rooms before the afternoon was half over.

Luncheon and dinner is served and fortunes are told with afternoon tea as an added attraction. And on the stage there is the Woman's club bazaar with a variety of things on sale including china pots and pretty pillows.

The program for today, the last day of the exposition, includes a lecture at 3 on "Interior Decorating," by Gladys Prutsman, followed by a lecture on "The Efficient Kitchen," by Miss Alice V. Madden. Tonight at 7:15 there will be a style show.
