

Ecclesiastical Exhibit to Open Sunday Afternoon

By P. H.

An Ecclesiastical Exhibit of great beauty and charm will open Sunday afternoon, March 22, at the Shawnee club at 3:30 o'clock, with a rare and complete showing of old tapestries and wood carvings, stained glass, altar accessories, Russian icons, paintings of old-world cathedrals and madonnas, priceless in value and interest.

Thomas O'Shaughnessy, an authority on the making of stained glass (a subject of which most people know almost nothing), will speak informally about them. Last season he appeared in a similar way and was demanded again this year.

Miss Willie Johnson of Memphis, Tenn., will be represented with a large showing from her famous collection of rare old laces, brocades, tapestries, altar cloths, bottles, canopy hangings, and so on, each piece of greatest interest.

Wood carvings by Alois Lang, nephew of Anton Lang, made famous through his impersonation of the Christus in the Oberammergau pageant, will be on view. Professor T. DeVries of the Northwestern university will loan a number of his choice pictures from his collection of Madonna paintings.

Joseph Birren will have fourteen of his oil paintings of interiors, exteriors and details of cathedrals in Rome, Venice, and Florence, also famous gateways of Granada and Seville.

J. C. Langtry of Evanston is lending eight pieces from his priceless collection of gothic furnishings, chests, candlesticks, robes and shrines.

The Walden Book shop will display old Tibetan banners and Russian Icons, and the Indian Trading Post will exhibit old Indian and Mexican wood carvings. The music committee has cooperated in making this exhibit one of the most beautiful and impressive ever held, and in observance of the Lenten season, presents the A Cappella choir of Evanston on the opening day, March 22, at 4 o'clock, and on the closing day, Easter Sunday, April 5, the fifty-two-voice all-Russian choir.

A surprise luncheon and bunco party was given by Annette Williams of 614 Earlston road, Kenilworth, Saturday, March 7, in honor of her birthday. Those present were Marsha Huch, Jane Peycke, Shirley Hermann, Betty Leach, Betty Jocelyn, Martha Roberts, Miriam Holmes, Marbeth Strumpen-Darrie, Betty Kenderdine, Mary Martha Cross, Jean Small, Kathryn O'Reilly, Lucie Dix, Margaret Tideman, Gertrude Orvis, Dorris Wolfe, and Annette Williams.

Mrs. Lloyd Crossett, mother of Mrs. George Kingsley of Kenilworth, who has been in Kenilworth most of the winter, is planning to return very soon to her home in Geneseo, N. Y. Mrs. Crossett has made a very definite place for herself among Mrs. Kingsley's friends and has had a large number of parties given in her honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wilson of 415 Ninth street, who left early in March for a fortnight's stay in Cuba, spent a recent week-end motoring to Matanzas, where they were entertained by friends who were able to show them the out-of-the-way places.

Miss Florence Branson, 817 Central avenue, entertained her bridge club last Tuesday evening at her home.

Have Roles in "Your Uncle Dudley"

Miss Marion Ortseifen of Kenilworth and Hollis Gleason of Wilmette are two representative members of the younger set who are taking part in the amusing and entertaining comedy, "Your Uncle Dudley," which is being presented by the Woman's Catholic club of Wilmette on Friday, April 10, at the Wilmette Woman's club.

There will be a matinee for the children at 2 o'clock and the evening performance will begin at 8:15. The play is given under the auspices of the fine arts department and the church building fund committee of the club.

Miss Ortseifen is a graduate of the school of speech of Northwestern university and is well known in north shore amateur theatrical circles having played leading roles in several Woman's club productions and because of her connection with numerous other amateur groups.

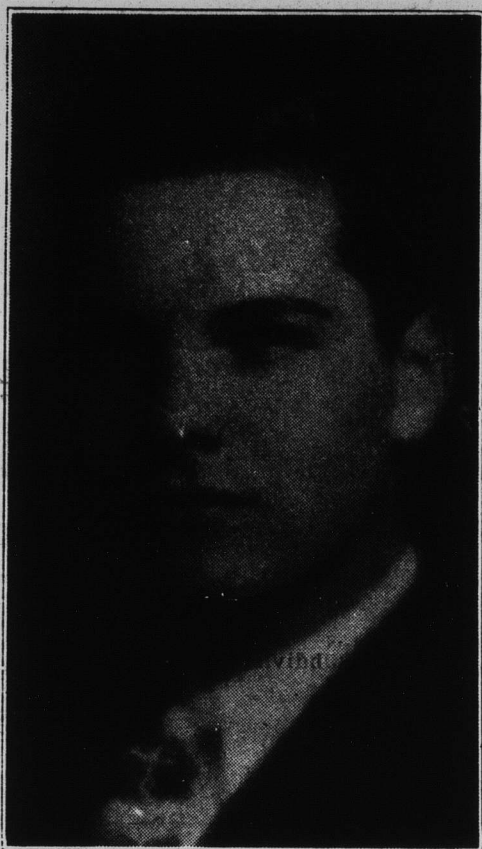

Hollis Gleason is a senior at New Trier and his portrayal of the high school sheik in "Your Uncle Dudley" is one of the outstanding features of the play.

Thomas Ross, who played the leading role in "Your Uncle Dudley" during its long run in Chicago last year, and who is now appearing in "Jonesy" will be the guest of the cast of "Your Uncle Dudley" at its rehearsal next Sunday afternoon. Mr. Ross is a personal friend of Paul H. Fieberg, who is directing the play and also playing the part of "Your Uncle Dudley" in the Catholic Woman's club production and it was through him that Mr. Ross accepted the invitation of the cast to be with it Sunday.

IN CAST FOR PLAY

The Mallinckrodt Alumnae Dramatic club will present, shortly after Easter, a play, "The Scoops," which, as its name indicates, is a comedy based on the experiences of newspaper reporters and editors. The cast will include the Misses Susan Mick, Marjorie Oerter, Ann Butzen, Blanche Keil, Geraldine Weber, Ruth Braun, Grace Ludwig, Marion Pearson, Eleanor Phillips, and Mary LeTourneau of Wilmette; Gertrude Hanke, Minnie Cognliese, Ann Marie Shey, Madeline Cobb, and Harriet Steigelman of Evanston.

Alpha Gamma Delta Mothers' association will hold its regular monthly meeting this afternoon at the chapter house in Evanston.

Bernie Photo

Miss Caroline Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall Roberts of 328 Warwick road, Kenilworth, will return the end of the month to spend Easter vacation with her parents. She will stop for a short time outside of Cleveland, to spend a few days with a classmate before coming to Kenilworth. Miss Caroline is studying at Dana hall in Wellesley, Mass.

The D. F. Halls of 809 Central avenue have returned from a month's stay in Florida.

On Club Program

Miss Maria Matyas, noted Hungarian soprano, will be a guest artist on the Junior auxiliary program when that group entertains the Woman's club of Wilmette next Wednesday afternoon, March 25 at 2 o'clock. As a feature of her program Miss Matyas will offer a group of her Hungarian folk songs in her native tongue.

Tells Study Class of Jew and Christian

The Kenilworth Study class met last Monday morning at the home of Dr. Herbert L. Willett on Richmond road. This was the fifth lecture of a series which Dr. Willett is giving to the group. He spoke on "Jew and Christian," telling of the origin of the Jews, and of Judaism, their inheritance and accretions, priesthood and genealogies, the Maccabean struggle, Rome and Judaism, the rise of Christianity, progress of the two movements and the Great Dispersion. Owing to the fact that many member are out of town, and to the rush of details in plans for the coming Garden and Flower Show opening this Saturday morning at the Merchandise Mart, which kept several away, this was not a large meeting. The next meeting to be held on Monday morning, March 30, will be the closing one of this series. It will, without doubt, claim a complete presence of the members. Dr. Willett will lecture on "Zionism: Arab and Jew in Palestine."

AMERICAN LEGION

Post No. 46

The American Legion of Illinois is doing its part in a humorous but intensely interesting national membership contest between the Legion and the Legion Auxiliary. The contest is being conducted along the lines of a burlesque automobile race. Each department of the Legion has been assigned some part of the auto which is assembled on the car when that state or department has attained its national membership quota.

Illinois, on March 6, had attained 79.51 percent of its 1931 quota. The department's accessory in the auto race is the left front door.

The automobile type of membership contest was decided on because of the fact that the Legion's national convention will be held next September in Detroit, Mich., famous for its automobile industries. The race started on January 1, and is being run in two phases. First is the assembly of the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary automobiles in their respective assembly plants, and second is the race between the two national automobiles on the track which will end on May 15. As each department in either organization attains its quota, the corresponding accessory is being assembled.

When 75 percent of the national quota of either organization is reached, the automobile concerned must be brought out on the track. The report of March 6 showed that the Legion auto is already on the track with four assembled parts, four departments having attained their 1931 quotas. The Auxiliary auto is still in its garage, having attained only 70 percent of its quota. The Auxiliary car, however, has assembled one part, the starter, due to the fact that the Auxiliary department of Rhode Island has attained its quota.

The report of March 6 showed that the Legion has attained 80 percent of its national quota. The assembled parts of the Legion auto included the spark, starter, right front tire and the fan, assigned to the departments of Porto Rico, Rhode Island, Virginia and Kansas respectively. Porto Rico is leading the membership contest with 217 percent of quota. Rhode Island is second with 108 percent, Kansas third with 101 percent and Virginia fourth with 100.37 percent. Departments which have attained more than 90 percent of their year's quota include Iowa, Louisiana, Missouri, North Dakota, Tennessee and Wisconsin.

RECOVERING

Mrs. Samuel H. Darst, 831 Central avenue, who was knocked down by a taxicab Monday of last week at the corner of Tenth street and Linden avenue, was badly bruised. She has nearly recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel F. Owen and their daughter, Miss Jane, of 725 Greenwood avenue, have returned from an eight weeks' trip to the West Indies, Venezuela, Panama, and Florida.
