

Food or Fodder

ANY chewable food will fill the aching void and allay the pangs of hunger.

But food that produces bodily strength and mental energy, sustains good health and appeals to the appetite, must measure up to certain well-known unchangeable standards.

These are our standards—we cannot change them and never intend to try.

PARK VOTE TUESDAY

Wilmette and Kenilworth Park Districts to Elect Commissioners in Ballot April 7

Both the Wilmette Park district and the Kenilworth Park board will hold elections Tuesday, April 7. In Wilmette two commissioners are to be elected for the full term of six years. Kenilworth likewise will elect two members to its park board.

Henry Fowler and Henry J. Haack, whose terms as Wilmette Park district commissioners expire this spring, are candidates for reelection. No other petitions have been filed. Members of the Wilmette Park district whose terms do not expire this spring are Louis K. Gillson, president, C. N. Roberts and Floyd L. Bateman.

The two members of the Kenilworth Park board whose terms expire are Charles D. Howe, president, and Herbert B. Taylor. Mr. Howe is retiring from the board, but Mr. Taylor is a candidate for reelection. Mrs. Florence (Mrs. Bently G.) McCloud is a candidate to fill the vacancy on the board caused by Mr. Howe's retirement.

Other members of the Kenilworth Park board who will continue in office are Edward F. Hamm, Joseph Joyce and R. W. Starrett.

The polling place in Wilmette will be the village hall and in Kenilworth the Kenilworth Assembly hall. In both villages the polls will be open from 7 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor, 149 Kenilworth avenue, left last week for Miami, Fla., to spend several weeks. On the way down they stopped off at Louisville, Ky. to visit Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Duffey.

ARGUE "PLAN" IN VOTE DRIVE

any such ordinance being put on the records except by a vote of the majority.

Mr. Newey in his talk launched out upon a defense of the Wilmette Plan commission, of which he has been a member for several years. It was his contention that the Village plan is not the issue in this campaign but that it is merely a false issue used to "throw dust in the eyes of the voters." He declared that the Plan commission never advocated any program for street widening, that it has absolutely no power to widen streets, that it is merely an advisory board. He accused the opposition of apparently not knowing the first principle of town planning. It was his contention that the purpose of a plan is to forecast the future, to see what will be the natural and logical development of the village and to indicate what streets may at some future time become heavily traveled, thus ultimately necessitating widening. He contended, further, that a Village plan does not jeopardize property values. Any plan, he stated, should proceed solely and only as fast as the people of the community show an interest in the development of the plan.

Hits Referendum

Concerning the question of referendum on proposed major changes in the village, Mr. Newey placed emphasis upon the fact that the government as constituted in Wilmette entrusts the solution of problems to its duly elected representatives. He propounded the question as to who was to determine what did or did not constitute a major question subject to referendum and cited as prohibitive the cost of a multiplicity of referendum elections.

Mr. Newey accused the Public Welfare party of having among its most prominent supporters, a group of citizens who a few years ago petitioned the Zoning board to rezone 65 acres of residential property skirting the central business section, and the "L" terminal area. He accused what he termed the "back-bone" of the Public Welfare party of favoring apartments in Wilmette.

Last Friday's meeting was attended by more than 300 villagers. All candidates, with the exception of E. R. James, a nominee for Village trustee, who was out of town, were heard.

The meeting had been arranged by the Wilmette Civic league as its regular monthly session. Dr. Donald F. Gallie, president of the league, was chairman.

HOME FROM VISIT

Mrs. George Evans and her daughter, Helen Alice, returned recently to their home at 1609 Tenth street from a visit in Bloomington, Ill., while Mr. Evans had been spending three weeks at Dunedin, Fla.

Keith Roberts, 464 Washington avenue, Glencoe, attended a miner's meeting in Toronto, Canada, this week.
