TRIBUTES TO KNUTE

Death of Notre Dame Coach Brings Grief to N. U. Athletic Staff

Tributes to Knute Rockne for his influence in college athletics and among the youth of the country were paid Tuesday night by Coach Dick Hanley and Kenneth "Tug" Wilson, director of athletics, of Northwestern university, following the famous football mentor's death in an airplane crash in Kansas.

"Rockne's untimely end is the most terrific loss modern athletics has ever known," stated Coach Hanley. "His loss is not only a national one but international as well, because wherever boys played Rockne was idolized and looked upon as the greatest figure athletics ever produced. In the Notre Dame-Northwestern relations that have existed for a number of years, we have come to know Rockne personally and to appreciate the spirit of fair play, magnanimity and generosity which typified him."

Mr. Wilson stated: "I was shocked to hear of the sudden death of Rockne. He was an outstanding figure in college sports. His influence was far reaching and his death makes a loss which will never be filled. I have known Rockne for a number of years and have always regarded him as one of the finest figures in athletics. His biggest interest was in welfare of the boy and he devoted his entire life to sports which he thought would benefit the youth of America. His influence toward the good of college football will be sorely missed. In our series of games with Notre Dame we have grown to know Rockne as a great fighter and generous opponent."
