Travelers to Be Directed in Unusual Tour of Japan by North Shore Travel Bureau

Temple tours in Japan, offering an unusual pilgrimage for travelers interested in the Orient, are being arranged by the North Shore Travel service and directed by Miss Edna True for the coming summer.

The party will be conducted by Prof. Perham Nahl of the department of Oriental art of the University of California, who has spent many months in Japan, and credit will be given by the university for the lectures he will give on the tour concerned with Oriental art and history. An official welcome to members of the party has been extended by Riuzo Tanaka, minister of education for the Imperial Japanese government, and it is the first time such a tour has ever been arranged.

Among the many conductors who will aid Prof. Nahl will be S. Nakano, official Japanese guide; Hiroshi Yoshida, one of the leading Japanese artists; Munemitsu Yanagi, university professor and lecturer at Tokyo university; T. S. Sen, master of the tea ceremony, fourteenth generation of tea masters of Kyoto; W. W. Taylor, art collector.

The party sails from Seattle June 24 on the "Hikawa Maru," or from Vancouver, July 5 on the "Empress of Asia."

The trip is arranged to give constant contrast and inspiration, and includes visits in Tokyo, Kamakura, Nikko, Miyanoshita, Kyoto, Nara, Miyajima, Keijo, Peking and Shanghai.

Mallinckrodt News

The Mallinckrodt Mothers' club is sponsoring a Card and Bunco party, Monday, April 20, at The Food Craft Luncheon, 1222 Wilson avenue, Chicago. Tickets also include a luncheon which will be served at 12:15, sharp.

EAST AND MIDDLE WEST DEBATE

March 30 two prominent universities met in the Mallinckrodt auditorium to debate the question, "Resolved: That the Several States should enact legislation providing for compulsory unemployment insurance." William F. Davis and Donald Potter of Boston university upheld the affirmative, while James Rafferty and Robert Murphy, Loyola university men, defended the negative. Clever verbiage, convincing arguments, and witty and brilliant rebuttal speeches were the salient features of the formal argument.

LECTURES AT MUSEUM

How he was captured by a band of Mongol soldiers, held prisoner for three weeks during which time he was subjected to tortures and faced death, will be told by William J. Morden in a lecture, "Across Asia's Snows and Deserts" to be given Saturday afternoon, April 11, at Field Museum of Natural History. The lecture is free to the public, and no tickets are necessary for admission. It will be illustrated with motion pictures and stereopticon slides, and will begin at 3 o'clock in the James Simpson theatre of the museum. Mr. Morden is field associate in mammalogy at the American Museum of Natural History, New York. His harrowing adventures took place while he was leading the Morden-Clark expedition of that institution, which traversed nearly 8,000 miles in the interior of Asia, hunting Marco Polo's sheep in the high Pamir mountains, and ibex in Thian Shan.

GUIDE-LECTURE TOURS

"Ancient Rome" and "Looms and Textiles" are the subjects of the first of next week's guide-lecture tours for the general public at Field Museum of Natural History. They will be given Monday, April 13, at 11 and 3 o'clock, respectively. Other days at the same hour subjects will be: Tuesday, "Birds" and "Tibet"; Wednesday, "Eskimo Customs" and "American Archaeology"; Thursday, two general tours of anthropological, botanical and zoological exhibits, and Friday, "Tropical Plants" and "American Mammals." These tours, conducted by staff lecturers, are open to all museum visitors. Parties assemble inside the north entrance.

Mrs. Sturgeon McCoy of Twin Falls, Idaho is making a short visit with her sister, Mrs. Thomas B. Gibson, 429 Tenth street, Wilmette.

Doctors urge

"Milk is the best food we have. There are always very many sick undernourished children in cities and countries where milk is scarce. Save on other things if you must, but not on milk—your child's best food," says the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Give your children Bowman's Milk and you give them Nature's finest food in its purest, most delicious form. For Bowman's Milk is the whole cream milk—just as rich and fine as when taken from the cow.
