

Plant Kenilworth With Crab Trees, Garden Clubs Urge

By P. H.

The Garden club of Kenilworth opened its season's activities last Friday with a luncheon at the home of the president, Mrs. Mark Cresap, Woodley road, Winnetka, followed by a business meeting and a visit to a number of gardens.

Mrs. Cresap's beautiful home lent itself gracefully to the entertainment of the large group of members who attended, and tables were placed in the living room, library, dining room and breakfast porch, giving the guests a chance to see from the house the plan of her garden and the lovely planting about the grounds.

At the business meeting, reference was made to the letter which was sent out last week by the club and signed by both Mrs. Cresap and Mrs. Fred Bulley, who is president of the Home and Garden club of Kenilworth, with regard to the planting of crab trees by every resident of Kenilworth. This is a civic idea which already has received encouragement and cooperation. It is the plan to have Kenilworth eventually radiant with these flowering trees in the spring time, possibly become as lovely at this season as Riverside or Lombard is at lilac time. Crab trees of all variety are urged, both in parkways and gardens, for these trees grow well in this vicinity. Both garden clubs are backing the idea and it is something to anticipate for the future.

Mrs. Noble Gillett gave a talk about the work and needs of the Fruit, Flower, and Plant guild and made a plea that every member do something towards furthering this worthy cause. The guild wants green vegetables this year and anyone wishing to give is asked to have their donations at the Kenilworth railroad station Wednesday mornings before the 8:25 train. Trainmen and crew will aid in getting these donations down to the North Western station in Chicago in good condition.

The club voted to send membership fees for every member of the organization to the Fruit, Flower and Plant guild.

After the adjournment of the meeting the guests had a close view of both Mrs. Cresap's and Mrs. Sidney Ball's neighboring gardens.

It was a most delightful afternoon. Mrs. Charles Ware, Mrs. Noble Gillett, together with Mrs. Cresap and Mrs. Frederick Williamson, delegates for the club, are planning to leave soon for the meetings in New York and vicinity of the Garden Club of America, held there this month.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harry Harrison, on May 15, when Mrs. L. L. Kumlein will speak on "Getting Acquainted with Evergreens." On this afternoon also, gardens will be visited.

Shawnee Members Will Exhibit Applied Arts

Members of the Shawnee club are urged to remember that on May 23, an all-day exhibition of applied arts by members and their friends will be held with a special luncheon served.

This is to furnish an opportunity to see something along artistic lines done by amateurs. The regular art exhibits by professional men and women have closed for this season.

Tennis is attracting the attention and interest of everyone at the club and the courts have been in shape since the first of the month.

"Jewish Mothers" Theme at N. S. Congregation

Dr. Samuel S. Cohon will conduct the services Sunday morning, May 10, at 11 o'clock at the North Shore Congregation Israel, Lincoln and Vernon avenues, Glencoe. The subject of Dr. Cohon's sermon will be: "Jewish Mothers."

BAKERY SALE

The Cozy Corner circle of the Wilmette Congregational church is to hold a bakery sale Saturday morning, May 9, at Van Deusen's grocery store, Mrs. E. L. Von Glahn and Mrs. Roland H. Anderson are in charge of the sale.

The LeRoy Armstrongs, who have been residing at 1318 Washington avenue, are now occupying the Joseph Von Ebers' home at 1626 Elmwood avenue.

MAKING SUMMERS COUNT

First View of Camp

A LAKE ALL OUR OWN

Two weeks ago in addressing the Illinois Teachers' Association, Miss Florence Hale, nationally known educator and editor, said, "It isn't so much what you know that counts in these days. It's what you can do, how you can get along with people, whether you're a good mixer."

A good summer camp is a great place to learn to do things. There is no better place to learn to live happily with others, to develop a friendly companionable attitude, a happy disposition, a cooperative spirit. Owakonze means determination and stands for opportunity. This camp is unusual in location, equipment, staff, program, spirit and opportunities offered. It is unusual, too, in the happy times it gives and the real values it secures for its campers.

A father wrote, "James got more out of his summer at Owakonze than he ever received from an entire year in school."

The President of a great corporation said publicly of Owakonze, "I have never seen a place where the conditions were so ideal for the development of manly qualities in boys." (Names and addresses given on request.)

The editor of the Camp Department of the Cosmopolitan visited Owakonze unannounced. An occurrence during the visit inspired this (December 1926 issue of the Cosmopolitan):

What Camp Experience Stands Out Most in Your Memory?

"Can you shut your eyes and picture the blackness of a summer night with the vermilion moon just topping the hill across your camp lake and a puffy breeze catching the distant sail of a dinghy? From the dark splotch that you know to be a canoe comes the strain of 'Just a Song at Twilight,' the distance lending mellowness to the bugler's notes.

"Then suddenly out of the shadow of the water flares a torch, then another light and another until in the lurid glare eight canoes are illumined, filled with packs, ponchos and campers. Swinging eight abreast to the tune of your favorite camp song, they paddle easily to the landing.

"With one cry the silent camp leaps into life. 'The English River trips are home!' the other campers shout and rush to welcome the tired, happy trippers."

Real camping, special care, resident physician, trained nurse, staffman to every four boys. Location on small lake means safety and water of right temperature for swimming. Location away from summer resorts guarantees that the life the boys get will be camp life and that the staffmen will be at camp.

New Trier High School cooks, excellent food, tested drinking water, Pasteurized milk, fresh vegetables, fresh fruit, meat and dairy products. Screened sleeping cabins, real beds, modern sanitation. Large clubhouse, large game building, photographic studio, library and sheltered rifle range for rainy days. Everything boys like to do under ideal conditions.
