

Elmo Cameron Lowe Is Elected President of the Art Center

Elmo Cameron Lowe, 2509 Pioneer road, president of the Evanston-North Shore Association of Architects, recently chosen a Fellow of the National Association of Architects, was elected president of the Evanston Art center when its second annual meeting was held at the organization's rooms in the public library, Wednesday evening, April 29.

Mrs. June Jean Myall, Evanston artist, was elected vice president; the recording secretary is Miss Greta Goffe; corresponding secretaries, Mrs. Sidney Gair and Mrs. C. B. Estabrook; treasurer, Charles M. Cartwright. Mrs. Frank L. Richardson, who has been president of the organization in the last year, was made honorary vice chairman. Mrs. Harrison B. Riley was last season elected honorary chairman.

Mrs. Richardson presided at the meeting at which reports of the year's activities were given. Mrs. Francis M. Schieble, chairman of the program committee, reported that programs have been sponsored during the year by the Evanston Woman's club, the Drama club, the University guild, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Garden club, the Evanston public schools, the art department of Northwestern university, and a host of friends of the Evanston Art center.

Exhibits Are Reviewed

Mrs. Antonin Sterba and Mrs. Arthur Boettcher reported that the University guild had arranged three fine exhibits of distinguished painters, and Mrs. Jean June Myall, art chairman of the Art center, reported that the Evanston schools arranged an exhibit of the work of Evanston school children, and that the Art commission, the Evanston-North Shore Association of Architects and the Bruce Bairnsfather pictures of the Drama club, formed another noteworthy exhibit. The Graphic Arts exhibit, the old time arts exhibit, the art photography and the sculpture of Stephen Beames and Eleanor Mabie, and the "one-man" shows of Louise Goffe, Ethel Louise Coe, Mrs. Johnston A. Bowman, Eleanor Hatch, Katherine Lord and Ruby Danielson, were the noteworthy exhibits reviewed.

Mrs. William P. Turner, chairman of the membership committee, reported that the membership had increased above the high number of last year. Miss Ida Faye Wright, chairman of the book committee, reported that $200 has been spent on valuable art books to supplement the already large art library. An attractive book-plate designed by Louise Goffe, Evanston artist, has been made for the Art center books.

Dr. Mary McEwen of the Ferguson art study committee reported that she is preparing a large collection of beautiful foreign post cards of the greatest art of the world and a lantern projector to show them which she intends to present to the Art center as a memorial to Dr. Ernest McEwen. Mrs. Alfred Gross will present to the Art center—especially for the Evanston school children who loved Miss Ferguson, the art teacher in the Evanston schools for many years—an especially designed shadow box with special lighting and decoration to hold the beautiful miniature of Miss Ferguson in the art rooms.

During the year the art center has installed especially-designed lighting reflectors for the wall exhibits at a cost of $300, large bulletin boards for outside the library and two for inside the library at a cost of over $100, — a stereopticon lantern for use at lectures at the meetings, a speaker's desk and spoons and a beautiful table cover designed by Mrs. Frank McElwain.

New Bank Officer

Raymond J. Darby, formerly trust officer of the Union Trust company of Chicago prior to its merger with the First Trust and Savings bank, and since that time assistant vice president of the First Union Trust and Savings bank has been elected trust officer of the State Bank and Trust company, Evanston. He assumes his new duties May 11.

The growth of the trust department of the State bank has made necessary additional officers in that department.

After passing the bar examinations in 1909, Mr. Darby became associated with John T. Richards, well-known Chicago lawyer.

From 1918 to 1920 he served as assistant to Judge Horner of the probate court. He became greatly interested in trust work at this time and decided to continue in that line. Jan. 1, 1920, he went to the Union Trust company as trust officer, continuing with the First Union Trust and Savings bank as assistant vice president after the merger.

He is a member of the Union League club of Chicago, the Bankers' club, the Wisconsin Society of Chicago, Chicago Bar association, Illinois Bar association, American Bar association, and Sunset Ridge Country club, and is a member of the Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity. At present he is serving on the legal aid committee of the Chicago Bar association.

His home is at 509 Elder lane, Winnetka. Mr. and Mrs. Darby have one daughter, Dorothy, who is a student at Dana hall, Wellesley, Mass.

Mother's Day Program Annual Affair at School

A Mother's Day program has been planned by the National College of Education for Thursday, May 7, when the mothers of the students are guests of the college. In the morning the mothers have the opportunity of attending classes with their daughters or observing in the the schools where the students are acting as assistant teachers. Luncheon is served at the dormitory in order that the guests may visit the girls' rooms and meet the heads of halls.

The sophomore musical romance "Diane" is given in Harrison hall at 2 o'clock, and at 3:30 tea is served in the alumnae room for the mothers and members of the faculty.

This Mother's Day, which was inaugurated at the college last year, met with such enthusiastic approval that it is being made an annual affair.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McNamee, 940 Forest avenue, have recently returned from Hot Springs, Va., where they spent several weeks.

N. C. E. to Give Annual Spring Festival May 15

The spring festival of the National College of Education, Evanston, will be held in Harrison hall on Friday evening, May 15, at 8:15 o'clock. The crowning of the May Queen, chosen by the secret ballot of the students for the girl who best represents the spirit of the college, is the climax of the festival, and has as its setting the gaiety and color of a masked ball. The program includes a variety of numbers—a quaint love scene from Normandy; a Viennese evening with gypsy entertainers; "The Widow's Veil," a humorous Irish skit, and the even more humorous coming to life of the "occupants" of a clothes line. The festival will be given under the direction of Miss Etta M. Mount, director of pageantry and folk dancing in the college, with the accompanying music under the direction of Miss Louise St. John Westervelt, director of chorus. The proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to the College Building fund.
