

Psychologist

Dr. Harry Overstreet, interpreter of scientific psychology to the average man and woman, will be the speaker at the annual lecture and dinner of the Parents' council of the Children's school, National College of Education, taking as his topic, "Building Minds for This Age." The lecture will be held at 8 o'clock, Wednesday evening, February 3, in the main auditorium of the college, tickets may be secured at the office.

Dr. Overstreet is head of the department of philosophy of the College of the City of New York, but is better known as a lecturer and as the author of "About Ourselves," "Influencing Human Behavior," and "The Eternal Quest," books which "revive in a tired mind an interest in the conduct of living because they show how much our traits have to do with our lives."

Mrs. Ericsson McLaughlin of Evanston is chairman of the dinner committee, assisted by Mrs. Bruce Brown of Evanston and Mrs. Earl Graham of Wilmette. Mrs. D. W. Crile of Wilmette is chairman of the program committee for the evening.

New Trier Boys Tackling Problem of Student Morale

Boys of New Trier High school, of their own volition, have set up temporary machinery for improving the student morale and for developing better cooperation in matters pertaining to student privileges.

Following a suggestion from one of the advisor rooms, the Tri-Ship club representatives from the various boys' advisories met to discuss such a plan Monday of last week. At that time a temporary committee consisting of Ted Wachs, Bill Nordburg, George Everett and Cy MacKinnon was appointed to take the matter up with Superintendent M. P. Gaffney.

These four boys held a conference with Superintendent Gaffney, who approved a plan for the formation of a student committee of thirteen to work out the student morale program. Boys named on this committee were Paul Netterstrom, chairman, Bill Nordburg, secretary; Rennolds Ostrom, Bud Kimball, Al Lind, Ted Wachs, Colin Finlayson, Stanton Schuman, Bob White, John Bailenger, Phil Ogan, Charles Dostal and Dave Miller.

Monday morning of this week an assembly was held at which the plan was explained to all boys of the school. Paul Netterstrom, chairman of the committee, presided at the assembly, and talks were given by Ted Wachs, Stanton Schuman and Bill Nordburg.

The move for improving the morale of the high school was spontaneous on the part of the students. The committee of thirteen boys which is working toward that end is intended to be only a temporary one.

Mrs. Edwin R. Hedrick, 304 Melrose avenue, Kenilworth will be hostess to her luncheon and bridge club on Friday of this week.
