Joseph Sears Teams Split Cage Contests

Basketball teams representing the Joseph Sears school in Kenilworth broke even in their North Shore Grammar School league games last Friday and Saturday.

On Friday at Kenilworth the Joseph Sears midgets won from the Nichols school of Evanston, 19 to 11. Bruce Granstrom and Mike Conley starred for Kenilworth. The Joseph Sears lightweights, middleweights and heavyweights lost to the Nichols teams by scores of 13 to 8, 18 to 3 and 22 to 16 respectively. In the heavyweight game the Kenilworth boys missed twelve free throws, although they showed improved defensive work, according to Robert W. Townley, Joseph Sears athletic director.

Saturday morning the Haven school of Evanston sent four teams to play Joseph Sears at Kenilworth in another North Shore Grammar School Basketball league match. The Joseph Sears midgets, now leading the league in their division, won by a score of 16 to 7, with Paul Cornell, Bruce Granstrom and Mike Conley doing the stellar work. The Kenilworth lightweight and middleweight teams won, 18 to 10 and 7 to 6 respectively, but the heavyweights lost to Haven, 18 to 7, after holding a 7 to 5 lead at the half.

The Joseph Sears teams were scheduled to play return games with Nichols at Evanston Tuesday of this week. Victory for the Kenilworth midgets would give them the undisputed championship of the league. The league's basketball season closes this week.

Women Voters Sponsor Hindus Lecture March 16

With the eyes of the world on Russia, the lecture on "Russia and the World" by Maurice Hindus on March 16, at Orchestra hall, under the auspices of the Cook County League of Women Voters, will offer food for thought to all interested in present conditions. Mrs. H. E. Ringholm of the Wilmette league is in charge of the local sale of tickets.

Frederick Lewis Allen, in his recent book "Only Yesterday" says, "Maurice Hindus' 'Humanity Uprooted,' which came out during the month of the panic, and sold very slowly at first, became a best seller during the gloomy autumn of 1930. In the summer of 1929 Russia had seemed as remote as China; in 1931, with bread lines on the streets, the Russian Five-Year Plan became a topic of anxious American interest. The longer the paralysis of industry lasted—and how it lasted!—the more urgent became the demand for some measure of American economic planning which might prevent such disasters from recurring, without handing over undue power to an incompetent or venal bureaucracy."

Maurice Hindus was born in a Russian village, came to this country at the age of 14 and worked his way through Colgate and Harvard. He is a most thoughtful speaker and has gained his picture of Russia at first hand as he has made nine trips there since the revolution.

Recently he has returned from seven months in Soviet Russia and it is from his experiences and observations he draws the material for his lectures which are dramatic interpretations of the land and the people. He is said to have a keen sense of the dramatic, an excellent flow of wit, and above all is fair minded. He does not try to prove anything about Russia. He brings a picture of Russia as she is now, and it's a picture that he has gained at first hand.

While always an excellent speaker, Mr. Hindus has grown in stature as an orator during the last few years, and on one of his most recent tours over a large part of the United States, he was greeted with capacity audiences enthusiastic and delighted with his presentation of one of the most important topics facing the world today.

POSTMASTERS CONVENE

Postmasters Joseph E. Shantz of Wilmette and Douglas Crooks of Kenilworth were among those in attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the Lake County-North Shore Postmasters' association Monday night at St. Peter's Evangelical community house on Shermerville road between Glenview and Northbrook. Routine business matters and problems affecting the postoffices of this section were discussed. The postmasters of Glenview and Northbrook were hosts at the meeting.

In reporting to WILMETTE LIFE the success of the recent card and bunco party given by the Parent-Teacher association of the Highcrest school the names of only the members of the committee who were present were given. Mrs. Arthur Schwall who was unable to be at the party, was also one of the committee in charge of the affair.

Mrs. Claude G. Burnham of Kenilworth is now enjoying the beautiful climate on one of the Balearic islands off the coast of Spain. She writes that "it is one of the most delightful resorts in the world."
