Logan-Howard P. T. A.

Those who braved the storm Tuesday evening, March 1, to attend the meeting at Howard school were amply repaid by the splendid program offered.

Dan Nolan opened the program by leading the audience in the singing of well known favorite songs. After which he divided the audience into 4 parts and everybody thoroughly enjoyed the group singing of "Row, row, row your boat."

J. D. Kinnear followed, singing a group of three songs accompanied by Mrs. Kinnear at the piano.

The speaker of the evening, Judge Joseph Burke of the Superior court, was then introduced by the program chairman, Miss Theman.

Judge Burke started out by explaining the work of the courts and leading up to the work of the Juvenile court with which he has been associated.

"Cook County" said Judge Burke, "is a pioneer in the Juvenile court work." Judge Timothy Hurley having been the originator, and not Judge Lindsay, as is commonly supposed. The court works to treat the children as children and not as grown up offenders. The Juvenile court and the Boys' court are separate, Judge Mary Bartelme being judge of the Juvenile court. The Juvenile court tries hard not to give the boys brought in a "Record." Because 86 percent of the boys do not repeat the offense and a boy with a "record" is handicapped for life.

The judge concluded by saying that if the parents would take more interest in the interests of the children such as Scouting and more interest in the work of the P. T. A. groups there would be less work for the Juvenile courts.

James C. Shepard of Wilmette then entertained with two Scotch numbers in costume. Mr. Shepard was enthusiastically applauded.

Henry Fowler then spoke a few minutes on the Tax Warrant campaign and J. P. Smith on the coming Radio Revue at the Howard school April 8. The meeting then adjourned to the hall for refreshments served by Mrs. Skog, chairman, assisted by mothers of second grade children.

Get Big Thrill in Record Plane Trip

An unexpected and interesting airplane flight to Kansas City was made recently by Mrs. H. W. Jordan of 320 Cumberland road, Kenilworth, and her two daughters.

With the arrival of a privately owned Lockheed-Vega, whose pilot is Colonel Young of Detroit, came their invitation. They took off from Curtiss field one day at 3:30 in the afternoon and sat down to dinner with Mrs. Jordan's family in Kansas City that evening at 7 o'clock. They remained there next day, departed the following morning at 8:30 and landed at Curtiss field at 10:45, lacking only three minutes of equaling the record flight of two hours and twelve minutes.

The children were thrilled over their trip, which brought interesting facts to them from Colonel Young, who taught Lindbergh how to fly, and who is called the "flying engineer." He explained interesting points in navigation to the girls and recounted experiences with the "Flying Colonel."

The trip brought excitement for Betty and Marjorie, too, for having motored to Kansas City many times, they were able, from the air, to recognize many spots in the landscape over which their course took them.

Jack Nason, 733 Cummings avenue, Kenilworth, spent a week-end a short time ago at his fraternity house, the Sigma Phi, at the University of Wisconsin.

Kenilworth Trustees Against Drive Change

A resolution supporting the movement sponsored by the Hubbard Woods Improvement association to prevent extensive alterations on the portion of Sheridan road known as Hubbard hill and to preserve the beauty of the ravine drive, as well as to relocate routes 41 and 42 from Sheridan road to some highway west of the north shore villages was passed by the Kenilworth Village board at its regular meeting Monday night.

The resolution states that Sheridan road is undesirable as a through artery of traffic and that it would be to the best interests of the traveling public and of the municipalities concerned to have the federal and state highways using this street moved to some highway to the west. It expresses opposition to any action by the state or other authorities which would encourage or tend to increase traffic on Sheridan road and to any plan or policy that would impair the scenic beauty of the ravine drive.

Similar resolutions have been passed by the Wilmette, Winnetka and Glenview village boards.

Health Center News

Mrs. Inez Bliss, community nurse, Wilmette reports that there is still a decided increase in health work. The illnesses brought to her attention have not been of a serious nature, but the financial depression has begun to manifest itself potentially.

During the first two months of 1932, Mrs. Bliss states, she made more than 300 home calls and 658 telephone calls to homes, and that more than 443 people came to the Health Center to consult her in regard to health problems. This is only a small amount of the work done in the Health Center, for the center also conducts three clinics a week, an Infant Welfare clinic and two dental clinics.

On February 15 the Chicago Tuberculosis institute with which the Health Center is affiliated, opened a chest clinic in charge of Dr. Julius Novak. Sixteen patients attended the clinic, ten of whom were children. These clinics will be conducted once a month. The next one will be held on Monday afternoon, March 21 from 1 o'clock until 3.

Mrs. Bliss further states that without the aid of the public and the splendid cooperation of the local physicians and dentists this work could not have been carried on so satisfactorily during these trying times when the health work is continually increasing and funds are rapidly decreasing.
