

Pupils to Depict Greece in Drama

The ancient Greeks gave much to the world. The sixth grade pupils of Central school have been learning what some of the contributions of the Greeks were. They will present a picture of the Golden Age of Greece in a play Thursday evening, March 7, at 7:45 in the gymnasium of the Stolp school.

The program is an outgrowth of class work. Pupils have written the play from their social science study. They have made the scenery and the costumes in their art classes. They have worked out the dances and the songs in regular class periods of physical education and music.

The performance has been planned especially for the parents of these sixth-grade pupils, but others interested in the children's play will be welcome. Since the pupils have had no funds to aid them in securing the necessary supplies, they are asking each visitor to donate whatever sum he can to help bear the expenses for such school work.

"The benefit of such performances" it is explained, "lies in the growth for the children in preparing the program. Little coaching has been done, therefore the acting will be very informal. The teachers hope that the parents will appreciate the understandings the pupils have gained in their study and the joy they are getting in presenting their play."

Mrs. J. M. Fehlen, 1803 Walnut avenue, will be hostess today to members of her euchre club. Luncheon will precede cards.

—Mr. and Mrs. Mark Cresap of Woodley road, Winnetka, are spending about ten days in New York.

Kenilworth Students Honored at Purdue

John G. Carleton and Albert Welty of Kenilworth are home from Purdue university for the Easter holidays. Recently, from college news channels, came an announcement that each of the young men has won a prize for the honor of being placed on the distinguished student list for the last semester. They were two of the 354 young men and women winning recognition. Albert Welty was among the eighty-two freshmen in a class of about 1,500 so honored, and John Carleton, a student in the school of civil engineering, was one of eighty-three juniors to win distinction.

Mrs. Kenneth Long, 1931 Ashland avenue, will be hostess to her luncheon bridge club today. Last Monday she entertained another luncheon bridge club.
