Oak Park Defeats New Trier, 4 to 1, in Baseball Game

New Trier lost the third suburban league game of its 1932 season to Oak Park, Saturday morning, April 30, on the Oak Park diamond, 4 to 1. Ray Kimbell, New Trier's star pitcher struck out seven men, bringing his total to nineteen for the three games.

Routsong led off for New Trier in the first inning by walking. Bebas followed and hit a fielder's choice to the pitcher, who threw to second, getting Routsong. Bebas stole second but was thrown out attempting to steal third after Church had fanned.

Oak Park started right off in the first inning when the first man up was hit by a pitched ball. Kimball then walked Christenan, and Arado singled sending Sothras home with the first run of the game.

New Trier scored its lone run of the game in the second when Lind tripled to right field. Hanson followed him and was hit by a pitched ball, then stole second. Dahl was safe on an error by White, and Lind came home with the precious run. Williams was called out on strikes and Kimbell fled out to the second baseman.

Oak Park's great inning came in the fourth. Henderson singled, followed by Meyer, who fled out to Hanson. Hein singled, sending Henderson to third. Hein then took second on an error by Williams. Henderson scored on the error and then Tamburino struck out. Cheevers hit a fair ball down the third base line and Hein scored. Sothras ended the inning by looking at the third strike. No runs were scored by either team after the fourth inning.

The New Trier nine, which has won one and lost two Suburban league games this year so far, will play at New Trier Saturday.

LENS CLUB STARTS MOVIE

The films have arrived, the staffs have been chosen, and work will start on the filming of the annual movie this week. The chosen story, which was written by Ned Shapker, has been adapted for filming purposes. Bob Hess is director, Craig Stoddard, assistant director, and Sam Rockwell, chief technician.

INQUIRING REPORTER

Question: What college will you attend next year and what is the reason for your choice?

Al Lind, '32—"Northwestern is my choice and my reasons for it are: This university has a very high standing among the leading universities of the country and is foremost in all athletics. It also affords the opportunity of making friends and associates whose contact will be essential when taking up business and making one's home in this section of the country."

Dick Nelson, '32—"I am going to the University of Chicago because I like its new educational system. I have seen this plan in action at Skokie school and have found it very gratifying."

Paul Phillips, '32—"My choice is the University of Michigan. Its liberal arts course is very broad and its pre-legal course in the law school enables one to graduate with two degrees in six years."

Ted Wachs, '32—"For some time I have been planning on going to Dartmouth, but I don't know if I shall be able to. Dartmouth, I believe, has the high academic standard of the eastern school without the usual expensiveness and formality; and in addition it has the advantages of an ideal location, all outdoor sports, and is non-coeducational. If finances permit, I hope to go there; otherwise, some other good university."

Paul Husting, '32—"I intend to go to Northwestern because of the facilities there for the commerce course that I expect to take. Northwestern has one of the best commerce schools in the country, and, being situated so near to a commercial center, Chicago, has many advantages of study that a school such as Illinois, Wisconsin, or Purdue could not offer."

Rennolds Ostrom, '32—"I have chosen Dartmouth because of its locality, high standards, and the type of man it turns out. I visited the school and was very much impressed by the attitude of the students and the beauty of the campus."

Dance Gives Impetus to Echoes Campaign

The Echoes dance served as a good beginning for this week's sales campaign. The dance was sponsored by the managers of the various departments of the annual.

Balloons floated lazily from subdued lights, covered with colored cellophane; indigo floodlights bathed the ballroom, giving a moonlight effect, and couples swayed to the rhythmic melodies of the "Northwestern Wildcats."

Clever slogans, urging the purchase of the Echoes, were displayed conspicuously about the Mess hall. Some of the slogans were: "In 1932 you will cherish the 1932 Annual"; "Buy, buy the Annual, or bye, bye Annual."

Robert M. Carpenter, faculty sponsor of the senior publication, says, "It

Here and There

Definition: A stuffed olive is a short pickle with a tail-light.

Salesman: "How would you like to try our parachuting?"

Ann Griffith: "I'd jump at the opportunity."

Lisper: "Are you a good sthport?"

Cam Brown: "Yes."

Lisper: "Then let me lean against you."

As Mr. Kahler would say: "A lot of fellows are caught in the act who are not vaudeville performers."

Doris Tansill: "Last time I had grapefruit in here, it was terrible."

Mr. Cooley: "Yes, but wait until you get an eyeful of this one."

Jean Kuhl: "I hear the sword swallower is on a diet."

Peggy Parker: "Yes—he hasn't eaten anything but pocket-knives for a month."

Jack and Jill
Sped down the hill
And hit a curve quite sharp;
The car turned turtle,
Jack's wreath was myrtle.
And Jill now plays the harp.

Vance Soule: "What's the matter with Mr. Kahler's eyes?"

Tom White: "Aren't they all right?"

Alex: "Well, I had to go to see him in his office yesterday and he asked me twice where my hat was, and all the time it was on my head."

Jack Bartlett: "The dentist told me I had a large cavity that needed filling."

Ken Stilling: "Did he recommend any special kind of study?"

New Nicknames

Harvey "Iron-Thumb" Whidden, Bill "Rabbit" Racine, Mary Jane "Pash" Rich, Barbara "Ants" Watrous, and Hugh "Cannibal" Fleming.

In the Classroom

Mr. Hutchins: "Robert Burns wrote 'To a Fieldmouse.'"

Bob Flandreau: "Did he get an answer?"

Mr. Routsong: "How far were you from the right answer?"

Jane Lundahl: "Oh, about four seats."

Mr. Grater: "If I subtract 79 from 23, what's the difference?"

Gil Keith: "Yeah, I think that's a lot of bunk myself."

is becoming increasingly difficult to hold a successful dance at school, because of the numbers of unwanted 'crashers.' At this dance, the so-called 'crashers' numbered well over a hundred, but their aim was not accomplished."

However, in spite of the difficulties, the affair was indeed a success, as it furnished ready cash for the publication.

Quinlan Breaks Another Record at Gary Relays

With Captain Quinlan in his usual role of mainstay and high-point man, the New Trier thinclads distinguished themselves in the second annual Gary Relays held last Saturday at Horace Mann High school in Gary, Ind. No team score was kept, but the Green-Gray speedsters placed at least second to Froebel of Gray in the number of events won.

Quinlan ran away with the century sprint in :09.9 to break his own meet record by two-tenths of a second. He also ran anchor on the half-mile relay team which won in 1:33.6. In the mile relay George took the baton, with Abrams of Froebel holding a twenty-yard lead. He caught up with and passed Abrams going into the last turn and held his lead until the last five yards where the Froebel boy passed him to win in the fast time of 3:35.7. When it was all over, it was found that Quinlan had run that last quarter, in :49.5, one-tenth of a second over the interscholastic record.

Schuman tossed the iron ball 47 feet, 8½ inches to win the shot put by a good six inches. In the pole vault, Ballenger and Kingsley both cleared 11 feet, only one height below that of the five winners.

ALUMNI NOTES

Ruth Scribbins, '30, had the lead in the May Day play, "The Swan," at De Pauw university, Greencastle, Ind. A little bird told us that Ruth wears a Sig Nu fraternity pin in addition to her Alpha Chi, and he's president of the house, too.

Jack W. Loeb, '30, who was one of forty-two honor student freshmen last year at the University of Chicago and received a scholarship for his sophomore year, has been appointed a member of the committee in charge of freshmen activities for next year. He is a sophomore manager in Blackfriars.

John Barden, '31, and Tom Hughes, '31, are active in the chorus of Blackfriars, the men's musical comedy organization of the University of Chicago.
