

Announce Courses at International Relations School

Unusual opportunity for north shore residents to hear national authorities discuss current economic and political problems affecting world affairs, will be afforded by the summer school to be conducted under the auspices of the Mid-West Institute of International Relations at Northwestern university, Monday, June 20.

A series of courses will be conducted during the mornings, for those enrolled in the school. Some of the subjects which will be discussed will be, "American Foreign Policy," "The Orient in World Affairs," "Economic Aspects of International Relations," "Political Problems in Establishing World Peace," "Current Peace Issues in the United States," and "Spiritual Aspects of the Struggle for World Peace." The faculty includes leaders from the East and Middle West, and they are all particularly well fitted to speak at such an institute, it is pointed out. Those whose names are already listed include Henry J. Cadbury, professor of Biblical Literature at Bryn Mawr college; Ben. M. Cherrington, director of the Foundation for the Advancement of the Social Sciences, and professor of International Relations at the University of Denver; Herbert L. Miller, professor of Sociology at Northwestern university summer session; Tucker P. Smith, secretary of the Committee on Militarism in Education; Mrs. Quincy Wright, president of the Cook County League of Women Voters; E. Raymond Wilson, field secretary of the Peace Section, American Friends Service bureau, and dean of the institute, and Andrew W. Cordier, professor of history at Manchester college, Ind.

Plan Evening Lectures

For those unable to attend the morning lectures, there will be a series of public evening lectures, to be held at Harris hall, beginning promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

The institute has secured outstanding speakers for this series. This group includes Edward A. Steiner, professor of Applied Christianity at Grinnell college, Iowa, who will speak on "The New World, the New Woman, and the Old Adam"; Harry D. Gideonse of the University of Chicago, and former director of the Students' International Union at Geneva, who will speak on "Who Is Going to Pay for the War?—the Lausanne Conference on Debts and Reparations"; Kirby Page, internationally known author, peace advocate and editor of the World Tomorrow, who will discuss the question, "Must We Travel the Moscow Road?"; James W. Garner of the Political Science department of the University of Illinois and former president of the American Political Science association, who will present the Latin-American situation. His topic will be "The United States and Latin America—Proposals for a Constructive Policy." "Problems of the Far East" will be presented by Grover Clark, who was born in Japan, former editor of the Peking Leader, and is at present in New York as consultant on Far Eastern Affairs. Rabbi Louis L. Mann, of Chicago Sinai congregation, and lecturer in the department of Oriental languages at the University of Chicago, will speak on "Religion's Stake in World Peace." Frank Malloy

Board Member

George E. Leal, 1719 Walnut avenue, is the newly appointed member on the Playground and Recreation board, having been named to succeed George E. Redding, representative from the Board of Education.

Mr. Leal has been a resident of Wilmette seven years and has always taken an active part in village affairs. At the present time, besides serving as a member of the Board of Education and the Playground and Recreation board, he is commander of Wilmette Post, American Legion. He also served on the Emergency Relief commission.

Mr. Leal attended his first meeting as a Recreation board member at the June session last Thursday evening.

Sears Girls' Team to Engage Evanstonians

The girls' playground baseball team of Joseph Sears school, Kenilworth, was scheduled to meet Haven school of Evanston in a return game at Kenilworth Tuesday afternoon of this week. Haven had defeated Sears, 9 to 8, in a game Wednesday of last week at Evanston.

Sears girls, comprising the team which met Evanston Wednesday, are Jeanette Robertson, pitcher; Lucie Dix, taking Charlene Driver's place as catcher; Peggy Ketcham, first base; Jane Holmby, second base; Doris Wolfe, third base; Patricia Raab, shortstop; Adelaide McClary, Catherine Phillips and Margaret Tideman, fielders; Betty Kenderdine, Edith Gillette and Bunny Dahn, substitutes.

Anderson of Dartmouth college will be heard on "The Treaty of Versailles After Thirteen Years." This series will be concluded by Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin and former editor of the Century magazine, who will speak on "America Is Part of the World."

Churches Cooperate

The First Methodist church of Evanston is keeping up its tradition of cooperation with such movements in Evanston, and is extending its hospitality to all attending the conference. Dr. Ernest Fremont Tittle will deliver the conference sermon Sunday morning, June 26, at the First Methodist church, Evanston. The evening service at which Grover Clark will speak is to be held in the First Baptist church of Evanston.

Hold District Meet of Optimists Here

Members of the Wilmette Optimists club Wednesday attended the district convention of the organization, held at the Georgian hotel Evanston. Representatives of Chicago, Austin, Gary Oak Park, and Wilmette clubs, attended. Holmes A. Sperr, president of Optimists International, addressed the gathering at the afternoon session.

The convention activities began yesterday morning at 10 with an open business session and roll call of delegates. Other business which was to have been undertaken at the morning session was the report of the secretary-treasurer, the submission of two amendments to the International constitution and the selection of next year's convention city. New officers were to be elected and delegates named to the international convention.

A golf tournament was played in the afternoon at the Columbian Golf club, under auspices of the Wilmette Optimists club. Fifteen golf prizes were awarded to winners in the tournament. Following the tournament delegates had dinner at the golf club. Stunts were presented by the Gary and Wilmette Optimists.

The first Optimist club was formed April 1, 1911, in Buffalo. Eleven clubs were represented at the first convention held in Louisville, Ky., in 1919, when constitution and by-laws were adopted and the organization designated as Optimists International. Since that time the organization, whose slogan is "Friend of the Boy," has grown and clubs have been formed in many cities.

Jane Burrill Graduates From Rockford College

Miss Jane A. Burrill, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James A. Burrill, 812 Greenwood avenue, Wilmette, was graduated from Rockford college, oldest college of liberal arts for women in the west, at its seventy-eighth commencement June 13.

A unique feature of the occasion was the "Alumnae College" comprising four alumnae lectures by representatives of the Rockford college faculty on various fields of human thought.

The commencement address was delivered by Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed of the University of Chicago, famous New Testament translator, on the topic, "Adventure With Books." In presenting diplomas to fifty-four graduates, Pres. William Arthur Maddox said:

"Rockford is a pioneer in the field of education through its maintenance for twelve years of an orientation course employing certain new principles in the field of liberal and cultural education. Because of the simplicity of its organization, the limitation of its student body and the homogeneity of its faculty, an intimate college like Rockford can make much more rapid progress in curriculum organization than our large universities. Because of these factors at Rockford every effort is centered on the greatest benefit to the individual student. For these reasons Rockford is one of the most progressive liberal arts colleges in the country."

CLASS INSTRUCTION

Manual training classes for boys and girls will be conducted by Lester Ball at the Howard school at 9 o'clock every morning, five days a week, and will continue for four consecutive weeks. They will begin on Monday, June 20. Registration for the classes may be made by telephoning the Howard school.

Pioneers Defeat Winnetka; Again in Pennant Race

The Wilmette Pioneers again get into the running for the North Shore league lead by defeating the third-place Winnetka team, 9 to 6, in a thrilling baseball game on Sunday before the largest crowd of the year. This was the Pioneers' second league victory.

Sunday afternoon, the Pioneers resume their campaign, meeting the Northwest Cardinals at 1 o'clock—at Boltwood field.

The victory over Winnetka celebrated Sam Roemer's first game as manager of the Pioneers. He succeeds Fred Krase. Roemer presented what is said to be the strongest lineup the Pioneers ever had. It was chiefly through Roemer that the Pioneers acquired such stars as Jackie Sullivan, Phil Seghi, Chuck White, Bob Peterson, Smith and several others. With these stars, the Pioneers hope to make a strong bid for the league title.

Winnetka Stages 3-Run Rally

One of the many thrills of Sunday's game was the three-run Winnetka rally that tied the score in the ninth inning. The Pioneers came back to earn the decision when Johnny Brychel smashed a triple with the bags loaded after two men were out.

Bob Smith, pitcher, and Chuck White, catcher, were the starting battery for the Pioneers. Smith allowed only five hits, but a three-run rally in the sixth marred his efforts. Schlueter, who took up the mound duties, suffered a slight lapse in the ninth when Winnetka tallied three times. Both pitchers received some sparkling support, Fred Krase and Al Roemer, starring at field.

The Pioneers collected eleven hits off the pitching of Pete Schwall. They scored four times in the second, once in the fifth and sixth, and then bunched four hits to tally three times in the ninth. Winnetka apparently used poor strategy in this hectic inning.

Brychel Breaks Up Game

After two men were out, Winnetka elected to walk Jackie Sullivan, filling the bases to pitch to John Brychel who returned the compliment by crashing a terrific triple to right. Frank Brychel, Al Roemer and Freddy Krase were other outstanding hitters for the Pioneers. Paulson and Busch were star Winnetka batters.

WISCONSIN GRADUATE

Miss Dorcas Branson of Wilmette is a member of the graduating class of the University of Wisconsin. Her mother, Mrs. Foster Branson, and her sister, Miss Florence, will leave the end of the week to attend the Commencement day program and exercises which will take place on Monday.

Mrs. P. H. Butler, 630 Linden avenue, entertained her sister, Miss Adelaide Smith of Berkeley, Cal., over the week-end. Miss Smith is enroute to Boston to attend a reunion at Wellesley college, having graduated with the class of '93. Miss Smith, on her return to Berkeley the latter part of July, will spend a few more days with Mrs. Butler.

Miss Harriet Mons, 157 Woodstock avenue, Kenilworth, has returned from Granville, Ohio. She attended commencement week at Denison university from which she graduated last June.

A group of north shore young people attended a polo match and rodeo on Sunday on the Jevne Haugan estate at Barrington.
