

Announce Flower Days for Wilmette and Kenilworth

Collect Flowers for Plant Guild Tuesdays, Fridays

BY JEAN TEN BROECK

Tuesdays and Fridays, are, respectively, Wilmette's and Kenilworth's days for collecting flowers, fruits, vegetables, and jellies for invalided Chicagoans in hospital wards and in tenement districts. In this charitable work sponsored by the Chicago Plant, Flower, and Fruit guild, all residents of the north shore are urged to participate by sharing the beauty of their gardens.

Contributions from each village are collected at the local North Western depot early in the morning, and are then taken into the main booth at the terminal to be given out by the guild through various charitable organizations whose contacts reach all over the city.

The media for collection Tuesdays in Wilmette are the Wilmette Garden club, through its flower guild chairman, Mrs. Wallace W. Kerr of 707 Forest avenue; the Evening Garden club of Wilmette, whose chairman is Miss Louise Robinson of 441 Hibbard road.

Kenilworth's two clubs, the Kenilworth Garden club, with Mrs. W. N. Gillett of 533 Roslyn road, as chairman, and the Kenilworth Home and Garden club, Mrs. Mary Wilds of 244 Oxford road, chairman, have charge of the collections on Friday of each week.

Those having gifts to make may take them directly to the North Western station during the early morning hours, or, if they are unable to send them, they may call any of these chairmen and arrangements will be made for their collection.

Donations gathered Tuesdays are given to the Visiting Nurse association, Dearborn station; House of Happiness; University of Chicago settlement; Visiting Nurse association; Martha Washington Home for Destitute Crippled Children; Old People's home.

Fridays' flowers and fruits, vegetables, or jellies, are distributed to Chase House settlement; Central Free station, V. N. A.; Howell Neighborhood settlement; Frances Juvenile home; Church Home for Aged Persons; United Charities, Haymarket district; Presbyterian and Cook County hospitals, Occupational therapy children's wards, and tuberculosis wards.

"The flowers never have been more welcome," the guild declares, and what these offerings mean in crowded tenement districts on sultry summer days little stories from all sections of the city disclose. Just one instance is cited in a message from a little old woman that she could not have been made happier if she had been given a hundred dollar bill instead of the flowers. "She is poorer than a church mouse," the guild announces.

"You who contributing generously, are bringing the joy of the country to the city," the guild points out. "Wilmette and Kenilworth residents are urged to assist in this charity. It is inexpensive, pleasant giving that will add joy to your gardening."

Jeanne Davis Becomes Bride of Robert Smith

Simplicity lent its charm to the wedding of Miss Jeanne Davis and Robert Dawes Smith last Saturday afternoon. Two vases of white roses on the altar, and four tall white baskets of pale pink and white gladioli at the ends of the choir stalls and at the steps of the chancel graced St. Augustine's church for the four o'clock ceremony. The Rev. David Gibson of the Cathedral Shelter read the marriage service, with Dr. Hubert Carleton, rector of the church, assisting him, and with two acolytes in attendance. Miss Ruth Averal, sorority sister of the bride, was the organist. The home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Lyndal Llewelyn Davis of Rogers Park, was the scene of the small reception immediately after the ceremony.

The bride was charming in her white crepe wedding dress fashioned simply with a cowl neckline, a train, and a jacket with short puffed sleeves. Her wedding veil and orange blossoms were heirlooms worn by the bridegroom's mother and grandmother, and the cap of rare lace which held the tulle to her head was an heirloom in her own family. Lilies of the valley and white roses formed her bouquet.

Mrs. R. D. Kelly of Evanston, her sister's matron of honor, was dressed in a blue crepe jacket frock, and carried pink roses and blue larkspur. The bridesmaids Miss Carol Anger of Chicago and Miss Mable Longley of Des Plaines, were in dresses similar to that of the matron of honor, the former in yellow, the latter in chartreuse green. They carried arm bouquets of Talisman roses and white larkspur. All three attendants wore dark brown turbans and slippers.

Stanley Smith served as his brother's best man and John Wootan of Chicago and Beverly Stevenson of Evanston were ushers.

Mr. Smith and his bride went north on their wedding trip and will make their home in Rogers Park after August 1.

The entertaining which preceded their marriage included a shower given by Miss Juanita Wilder of Chicago Heights Saturday, July 9; a shower at which Miss Ruth Brooke and Miss Ruth Averal were hostesses Tuesday, July 12, at the former's home in Riverside; the luncheon and bridge party which the bride's sisters, Mrs. W. F. Rieder of Rogers Park and Mrs. R. D. Kelly, gave at the Illinois Golf club Wednesday, July 13; the musicale, tea and shower given by Mrs. Royal D. Smith, the bridegroom's mother, Thursday, July 14; Miss Carol Anger's bridge, tea, and shower Friday, July 15; the luncheon Mrs. Clarence Puhlman of Wilmette gave at Shawnee Saturday, July 16, which was followed by a shower at her home, 623 Washington avenue.

Royal Dawes Smith gave a bachelor dinner for his son at their home, 706 Elmwood avenue, Wednesday, July 20, and Mr. and Mrs. Smith gave the bridal dinner following the rehearsal for the wedding Friday, July 22.
