News of the Boy ScoutsSchooner Albatross Makes Sixth Cruise

On Monday, August 15, the Sea Scout ship Albatross sailed from Navy pier, Chicago, for a two weeks' cruise on the Great Lakes. On the following Monday, August 22, word was received in the council headquarters to the effect that the ship was at Mackinac island, Mich., and that the Sea Scouts were bound south for Manistique or Charlevoix.

This is the sixth cruise for the schooner. "Skipper" Jack Demorest has been in command all summer and has been ably assisted by his mate and chef, "Svenz."

Following is a list of Sea Scouts and leaders who are aboard: John Betak, skipper, Lewis Birdsall, Walter McQuire, Motley Bryant, Bob McQuire, Walter Haas, Fred Leason, Jim McNamee and Harry Keator.

North Shore Boy Scouts Appreciate Good Books

As in former years, the Highland Park library sent 122 good books to Camp Ma-Ka-Ja-Wan this last season to supplement the camp library, which operates each summer for the convenience of the campers. George Hinn was camp librarian and vouches for the extensive use that those and all books got at camp this summer.

If anybody has any books that he would like to send to camp, he may leave them at the Highland Park headquarters, 21 North Sheridan road, Highland Park. Persons wishing to have the books called for, phone Highland Park 629.

Radio Troop Is Taking Wisconsin Canoe Trip

Scouts of "Troop One-Eleven of the Air" left last Saturday for Marlanis, Wis., where they began their longed-for canoe trip down to Rhinelander. Getting a good start on Fence lake Sunday morning, they paddled their way down through a chain of lakes to Tomahawk. They arrived in Tomahawk on Wednesday and started down the Wisconsin river. They expect to arrive in Rhinelander on Friday evening and to return to the north shore on Saturday.

EXECUTIVE SEEKS MUSKIES

Myron C. Rybolt, the scout executive of the North Shore Area council, was fishin' for muskies this week on the Wisconsin river with Mr. Lorensdorf and Mr. Kirk, scout executive from the Samoset Area council. No fish stories have developed, but if Mr. Rybolt's muskie fishing proves to parallel his pike and bass records, we're bound to hear about a "beaut."

RETURNS FROM CAMP

Robert W. Townley, athletic director at the Joseph Sears school in Kenilworth, returned to the north shore this week from Camp Owakonze, W. L. "Duke" Childs' camp in Ontario, Canada. Mr. Townley has spent several summers at Camp Owakonze as one of the camp directors.

Scout Executives Roam to Various Parts of Country

The members of the executive staff of the North Shore Area council are spending their vacations in rather widely separated areas.

Mr. Rybolt is taking his vacation with his family at the scouter's (formerly family) camp in Wisconsin, across the lake from Camp Ma-Ka-Ja-Wan.

Mr. McManus is touring the middle west and near east, inspecting other scout camps and just seeing the scenery which they and their surrounding areas provide. It seems the globe trotter of the outfit is Mr. Boltz who went east to visit friends and relatives in New York and New England.

The office secretaries spent their vacations close to home. They'll all be back soon ready to make the fall program "pop."

Banjo King Invites Scouts to Big Rally

Eddie Peabody, the banjo king, who was on the stage at the Uptown theater last week, invited all scouts and scouters to a scout rally at that theater on Monday, August 15. Approximately fifty north shore scouts attended.

When they left the theater after a fine show, they all felt that they had had a splendid morning. Mr. Kiplinger, the regional executive, Mr. Finnell, deputy regional executive, and his brother, and Eddie Peabody with his banjo, and Tom and Hank, trick riders and ropers, took part in the program.

Eddie Peabody is regarded as a very enthusiastic scouter, being actively connected with ten troops throughout the United States and Canada.

A tenderfoot investiture ceremony was conducted on the stage for Tom and Hank McFarland who prepared themselves as tenderfoot scouts between "acts."

Many Long to Go Back to Camp Ma-Ka-Ja-Wan

We hear on all sides, "Gee, I sure wish I was back at camp." It's all over—and so quickly. However, the more the scouts miss camp after they have been there the quicker they are to return. The reaction is not without reason and any red-blooded boy is always "a-rarin' to go back" to scout camp where men are men and boys have a good chance to express themselves.

SCOUTS HELP AT MEET

Approximately fifty scouts from Highland Park and Lake Forest assisted in parking cars and the like at the North Shore Open Golf tournament Monday, August 22, at the Sunset Valley Golf club. Arrangements were made through L. G. Briggs, and the group was in charge of John P. O'Connor, scoutmaster of Troop 35, Ravinia.

DEMONSTRATES BELLANCA

J. L. Moss, Jr., vice-president and sales manager of Pal-Waukee airport, flew a Bellanca to Minneapolis Wednesday, August 17, to demonstrate the ship to a prospective purchaser. Pal-Waukee is the Bellanca distributor for this area.
