

Weep No More, My Lady

"I felt the same way, Henrietta, when we let the maid go and cut our table allowance, but I've learned a few things lately. "We're eating the best food you ever tasted without a speck of waste—I just order by phone, have it delivered and save plenty of time for all of my housework every day. "So dry those tears and shift your trouble to Van Deusen's. They haven't been in business forty years for nothing—they know good food, their prices are as low as any and everything they sell they guarantee."
