McKenzie Is Christian Science Church Director

Succeeding to the office from which Edward A. Merritt recently resigned after 15 years' service, William P. McKenzie, of Cambridge, Mass., took up his duties this week as one of the five directors of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., an organization whose influence now extends throughout the civilized world by virtue of its extensive publications and its maintenance of over 2,600 branch churches and societies.

Mr. McKenzie, the son of a Scotch clergyman, was educated at Upper Canada college, Toronto university, Knox college, Toronto, and Auburn Theological seminary. After a brief pastorate, he taught English literature and rhetoric at Rochcester (N. Y.) university, during which time he became interested in Christian Science. Since then he has held many important positions with the Christian Science organization.

In 1894 Mr. McKenzie became a "First Member" of The Mother Church. The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston; and in 1896, upon the invitation of Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, he came to Boston to become a member of the com-mittee which prepares the "Bible Lessons" for Christian Science serv ices. In 1898, by Mrs. Eddy's appointment, he became one of the original trustees of The Christian Science Publishing society, serving until July, 1917, when he was appointed editor of the Christian Science religious periodicals, in which position he served until March, 1920. Mr. Mc-Kenzie was again appointed a trustee of the Christian Science Publishing society in January, 1922, and he now retires from that position to take up his new duties as a director of The Mother Church. In 1898 when Mrs. Eddy instituted The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Mr. Mc-Kenzie was made one of its members and he served in this capacity until 1915. He has twice served as president of the Mother Church. He received instruction in Christian Science directly from Mrs. Eddy in 1898. For many years Mr. McKenzie has been a teacher and practitioner of Christian Science in Cambridge Mass

Young Painter

Malcolm Balfour Photo At the recent Art Fair held in Grant Park Miss Margaret McKee Walker of Wilmette was one of the few artists whose paintings were purchased by Mrs. Frank G. Logan, whose husband is vice president of the Chicago Art Institute. Both Mr. and Mrs. Logan are donors of the most important prizes in the annual exhibits at the Art Institute.

Miss Walker has been commissioned to do a pastel portrait of Mrs. Logan, who has announced a deep interest in the young artist's work. Miss Walker is a graduate of New Trier where she won a number of first prizes in literary contests—one in poetry and once in short story writing, and others. She was the first student at New Trier to win first prize for the chemistry essay for the state of Illinois given by the American Chemical society.

She attended Northwestern university and made the super English section in her first year, and also won the $50 award given to scholarship students ranking highest in the competitive examinations. In her sophomore year she passed the English literature examination which entitled her to take the junior English course in composition, an honor that is given very few students.

Her father, the late Francis I. Walknumber of familiar hymns as well er, had been head of the English department at New Trier for twelve vears. He had also been a member of Mrs. C. F. Hulbert of 316 Richmond the music faculty at Northwestern. road, Kenilworth, entertained at a Miss Walker resides with her mother at 1315 Elmwood avenue, Wilmette.
