

Boy, 14, Steals Purse; Nabbed by Policemen

A fourteen-year-old boy who stole a purse at the Albright Beauty shop, 1167 Wilmette avenue, last Friday afternoon was picked up that evening about 6:40 o'clock by the Wilmette police on Central avenue a half a block west of Main street.

The boy, Morris Hara, 3344 Douglas boulevard, Chicago, entered the beauty shop on the pretense of selling neckties. After he had gone it was discovered that a purse belonging to Patsy McDonough, 1007 Lake avenue, who is employed at the shop, also had disappeared. The purse contained about ten dollars.

When young Hara was picked up he admitted stealing the purse, taking the money out of it, and throwing the purse away. This was his first offense, he said, and in view of his youth, Miss McDonough did not prosecute. The boy was turned over to his parents. His older brother, Sam, 19 years old, who was in Wilmette with him, also was picked up by the police, but was released.
